DRAMATIC ACCOUNT OF LOST BABY'S SAFE RETURN ENDS KIDNAPING THEORY

Carolyn Peterson In Hospital, Is Expected Home in Few Days

Condition Reported Improving Rapidly Despite Effects Of Eighty Hours of Exposure in Fields and Thickets.

BY W. T. BUCHANAN
Marion Star City Editor

Little 20-month-old Carolyn Jeannette Peterson, missing since 11 a. m. last Wednesday, is safe and at the Marion City hospital is showing rapid recovery from her ordeal.

She was found shortly after 7 p. m. Saturday night by Samuel W. Almendinger, 75, eighty hours after her disappearance, as he hunted his milk cows in a dense thicket pasture not more than 800 feet northwest of the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peterson of route 98, a mile and a half north of Waldo.

Condition "Much Improved" Today

Given first medical attention in the hospital about 7:30 p. m. Saturday, she was found to be in not too serious condition. Today the attending physician said she is "much improved and is beginning to look her normal self."

The physician added that her extreme restlessness of Saturday is subsiding and that she is beginning to play. She is on a soft diet at two hour intervals.

It is expected she will be well enough to return to her home in two or three days.

Kidnaping Theory Dropped

Finding of the child uninjured except for briar and thorn scratches over her entire body led authorities today to dismiss the theory held for three days that she had been kidnaped.

Sheriff LeRoy Retterer said: "I can't see anything in this case except that the child wandered away, was lost nearly four days and some how, escaped detection by searchers who covered the territory around the house."

Although still shaken by doubt several hours after the discovery of his child the father yesterday afternoon said he had reached the conclusion there was no kidnaping involved. For a time he said he thought kidnapers might have returned the child to the pasture field through fear of detection as the search became intense.

Child's Finder Sees No Kidnaping Evidence

Mr. Almendinger said he was convinced there was no kidnaping. "I think the Waldo community ought to forget that idea at once," he added.

Almost overcome with joy at his Saturday experience he declared it "was the the greatest thrill of my life and something I'll never forget."

The report the child had been found brought a sudden halt to Waldo community residents to raise a $2,500 reward fund for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the supposed kidnapers.

Rev. S. C. Long, chairman of the reward committee, reported the drive, which started about noon Saturday had brought in $3,000 in cash and $800 pledges. He said much more could have been raised. Today the committee was making plans for returning the money to contributors upon receipt of official word from authorities that kidnaping is not involved in the case. "For the time being we will stand by, but will announce plans for returning the money as soon as possible," he said.

Father Voices Thanks

Mr. Peterson today expressed his thanks to the entire community and to all those who had assisted in the hunt for the child. "It's a great relief to have Carolyn safe and no words in the dictionary can describe how happy we are," he added.

As for Carolyn she probably is in a happier frame of mind in her hospital crib today than at any time since she toddled away from the Peterson home last Wednesday, three and a half days and three nights before she was found.

It is a pity she is not old enough to talk, for if she could she would have a story of high adventure to tell. She could explain her travels and tell how she kept herself alive by eating blackberries and how she escaped the heat of the sun and torrents of rain by seeking shelter under dense bushes.

Like Act of Providence

Circumstances surrounding the finding of the child are almost providential. Only the merest chance took Mr. Almendinger past the spot where little Carolyn was sitting quietly in the grass.

Failure of two cows to return to the pasture gate to be driven to the Almendinger barn for milking apparently was the only thing that saved the girl from another night alone in the open and possible death from starvation and exposure.

The spot where she was found is on the east side of a 16-acre tract of pasture land at the extreme eastern end of the Almendinger farm. It is about 800 feet northwest of the Peterson home which is on route 98. The Almendinger home is to the west of route 23.

With the exception of a small portion of the north end of the field and a narrow strip not more than 50 feet wide around the south and east sides the entire field in an impenetrable mass of briars, weeds, thorn bushes, wild cherry and ash sapplings and other undergrowth. The western side of the field is traversed by the Ququa ditch.

Section Densely Covered

It is so dense that one can not even see into it more than two or three feet at any point. The bushes and small trees range in height from about 3 feet to 15 feet. There are few large trees in the area, since it was cleared of timber a number of years ago.

It was into this mass of dense vegetation that Mr. Almendinger went Saturday night in search of his cows.

Although he had taken part in the search for Carolyn at other times he had been at home all Saturday afternoon with the exception of a short period when he went to the home of a neighbor, Wilbur Ringert, to make a contribution to the reward fund for the arrest of the supposed kidnapers of the child.

After returning from the Ringert visit he drove his car down the lane, as was his custom, to the thicket pasture to bring in the cows. This was about 7 p. m.

The lane ends at a gate near the Ququa ditch over which is a small bridge.

Cows Not in Usual Place

Ninety-nine times out of a hundred, Mr. Almendinger said, the cows are at the gate waiting to be brought to the barn.

But Saturday night they were not in sight. Leaving the car at the gate Mr. Almendinger walked toward the north end of the field, thinking the cows might be there. But they were no where in sight.

Returning to the bridge, which is on higher ground, he attempted to sight the cattle to the south. This also was without result.

He then started out over a narrow brush-bordered path which leads through the center of the field toward the eastern line fence.

He uses this path only when the cows are difficult to locate in the pasture.

He followed the path to a point where it turns south near the eastern fence. This turn in the path brought him into the narrow border around the field which is free of underbrush but which supports a heavy growth of foot-high blue grass, milk weeds, thistles and iron weeds.

Mr. Almendinger walked southward in this border area only a short distance without sighting the well-hidden cows.

Child Is Discovered

He reached a point about 10 feet from the fence, when suddenly, without any particular reason, he struck at a tall iron weed with the cane he carries, breaking it off at the ground. This caused him to pause for an instant and as he raised his eyes from the falling weed he caught sight of the child sitting on the grass, facing him with her back to the fence. She was almost directly to his left. It was then about 7:15 p. m.

Since the child was partially hidden by the high weeds a few steps more would have carried him past her.

Only the blow at the weed and the brief pause allowed his gaze to fall on her. Otherwise he probably would have walked on, looking straight ahead for the cattle.

The sight of the child brought a reverent exclamation of "My God, My God," from Mr. Almendinger.

But let him tell in his own words the strange story as he repeated it to this reporter Sunday afternoon at his pleasant farm home on route 23, three miles north of Waldo.

"When I saw her sitting there I could hardly believe my eyes.

"I went right over to her and picked her up. She made a childish gurgle of satisfaction (she has not yet learned to talk).

"I started to walk toward the

"NOT SO HOT" IS PREDICTION

Relief on Horizon; No More 90's—Just 80's—Says Weatherman.

The perspiring shirt-sleeved weatherman finally has had enough. With a wedge of cold air officially reported to be moving eastward, the temperature in the midwest for the next few days is expected to drop to the 80's from its last week's perch in the 90's, according to an Associated Press dispatch.

With cooler weather already reaching as fas east as sweltered Chicago, the forecast for tonight for this vicinity is slightly "cooler." The prediction for tomorrow is partly cloudy and slightly cooler with scattered showers."

The thermometer in Marion at noon today registered 84, but with relief reported to be in sight. The mercury here yesterday reached a peak of 88 and fell to 71 during the night. A year ago Marionites enjoyed a high of 72 and shivered in a low of 49.

Wedge of Cool Air Poking Way Eastward

By The Associated Press

A howling tropical storm which caused widespread but generally minor property damage at Galveston, Tex., yesterday was playing itself out in heavy rainfall today as a broad wedge of cool air poked eastward across the north central states.

At Galveston, one man was killed by electric shock from a falling power line and the three man crew of a small boat was feared lost.

Texas City, where 500 persons were killed in a ship explosion about four months ago, appeared to have suffered no extensive damage.

The cool air mass which ended the prolonged and severe heat wave over the northern midwestern states had spread as far southward as northern Missouri and northern Oklahoma and as far eastward as Chicago today.

Temperatures in the region which had climbed to the high 90's daily for almost a week probably would go no higher than the 80's for the next two or three days at least, the Chicago weather bureau said.

By tomorrow, the forecaster said, the cool front will extend into southern Illinois and Indiana.

Widely scattered thundershowers accompanied the cool air movement yesterday across Iowa, Missouri and northern Illinois but most of them were too light to be of much benefit to crops, the weather bureau said. In a few localities, however, the rainfalls measured a half inch or more.

North Ohio Gets Relief; Rest of State Swelters

By The Associated Press

What the weather bureau called cooler weather was due today in sweltering Ohio.

Only northern Ohioans, however, appeared likely to benefit from the cool air mass.

Central and southern Ohioans, who will continue to mop perspiration for another 24 hours, could only wish they could live like the other half of the state.

Northwinds and scattered thundershowers were on tap for the northern portion, with the night's low in Cleveland estimated at 65 degrees.

Cincinnati, at the other extreme,

Local Legionnaires To Drive 40 et 8 Boxcar To Meeting

A large number of Marion Legionnaires will leave tonight for New York to attend the national convention of the American Legion, Aug. 27-30. Several plan to drive their own cars and others will go by train.

At least eight men will make the trek in the 40 et 8 boxcar which will leave at 9 p. m. tonight. The group using the car have planned to go along the Pennsylvania turnpike instead of across the mountains. They will follow route 30 to Pittsburgh. The eight to travel and sleep in the 40 et 8 car are C. B. Morris, Walter Behner, Police Chief W. E. Marks, Norval Foreman, Newton Cunningham, R. A. Todd, William Arndt and R. C. Burkelew.

The main parade of the Legion will be held Aug. 30 and the 40 et 8 parade will show Aug. 29.

DAM AREA OWNERS FORM ORGANIZATION

Majority from Delaware District Are Enrolled.

(Special to The Star)

DELAWARE, Aug. 25—Uncertainty regarding the federal government's land acquisition program and the intentions of Army engineers in the Delaware conservancy dam reservoir area last week resulted in organization of property owners affected by the project.

The new organization comprises a majority of the owners of the approximately 275 acres of land tentatively slated for purchase. Purpose of the group, according to spokesmen, is to facilitate and encourage cooperation on common problems and not to interfere in any way with the government's program.

According to property owners, no appraisals of land in the reservoir area have been made to date and no offers made for property which the federal government would eventually acquire.

Meetings will be held at regular intervals to check on activities of the Army engineers and to exchange information on progress of the land purchase program, members said. The next meeting has been tentatively set for Marlborough church early in September.

Erroneous Report Says Young Dead

Edward Demoine Young, 39, sought since early in July on a warrant charging he murdered Mrs. Zora Gerbes, bobbed back into public attention today with reports he had been found hanging from a tree limb in a woods.

The report first came to the attention of Sheriff LeRoy Retterer when an unknown person telephoned the sheriff's office to inquire if it was true that Young's body had been found near Morral.

Two other calls were received by the sheriff. One placed the scene of the discovery near Morral and the other near Bucyrus. A short time later a call to The Star office placed the finding of the body in a woods south of Marion.

The sheriff said he could not learn how the erroneous reports started.

First Session of Week-Long School Workshop Set Tonight

A county school workshop, arranged by D. T. Mills, superintendent of county schools, for this week, will open tonight with a general session at 8:15 in First Presbyterian church. This is the second such annual education conference arranged for county school faculty members, giving opportunity to confer various problems with state education specialists. The conference will continue through Friday afternoon with sessions at the church and at Hotel Harding.

Preceding tonight's session, there will be a dinner at 6 p .m. at the hotel for those who will take part in the program following at the church. A symposium has been set up on "What Can Be Done To Develop Desirable Citizenship and Personality?" with a discussion group composed of Dr. Herschel Nisonger, Dr. Dwight Arnold, Dr. Charles Curran, Dr. Maurice Newburger and Dr. Howard Hamlin. This session will be open to the public with no admission charge, it was announced.

Personality Is Theme

General theme of the five-day meeting is "Building Personality and Citizenship" and "Current Practices in Reading and How To Improve Them."

Second general session will be Tuesday night at the church, with consideration of "Current Practices in Teaching Reading." Principal speaker will be Dr. Leland Jacobs of Ohio State university, who will be assisted by several teachers and one or two parents. Starting Wednesday and continuing through remainder of the conference will be the workshops on individual problems, with three sessions Wednesday and Thursday morning, afternoon, and evening, and morning and afternoon meetings Friday. Eight recognized specialists in their fields will supervise the workshop studies.

The final session will be on court-school relationships, led by Judge Joseph Lady of the Hardin county probate court.

Members of the symposiums set for tonight are educators active in the fields which they represent. Dr. Nisonger, Ohio State university, is specialist in adult and special education; Dr. Arnold, Kent State university, in social studies and science; Dr. Curran, from St. Charles college, Columbus; education; Dr. Newburger, executive psycologist, bureau of juvenile research, Columbus; Dr Hamlin, state department of education supervisor of health and narcotics education. Various other consultants will take part in the workshop sessions.

Nevada Plane Pilot Injured in Crash

(Special to The Star)

BUCYRUS, Aug. 25 — James Haydon, 35, of nearby Nevada suffered a broken back and severe facial lacerations yesterday when the airplane he was piloting sheared a tree and overturned on the Crawford county fairgrounds race track.

Haydon was taken to Bucyrus City hospital where he was to be placed in a cast today. The plane was about 75 per cent demolished, according to the manager of Coon's airport, Nevada, owner of the craft in which Haydon was flying alone. The accident it was believed occurred when the pilot attempted to land the plane on the fairgrounds racetrack.

No One Injured As Auto, Train Collide

No one was injured when an automboile and an Erie freight train collided just east of Main street Saturday at 11:40 p. m.

The auto driven by Elma V. Copeland of 183 Wallace street came out of the alley north of Main street and turned west on Mill street on the railroad tracks.

The eastbound Erie train No. 74 had just pulled out and was moving slowly, police reported. The front end of the automobile was smashed. Daniel Hentze of 179 Boone avenue was the engineer of the train.

A School Sports Program Calling For Your Support

On today's sports page of The Star is an important news story giving a detailed account of a "Football Betterment Program" being launched in behalf of Marion school sports and athletics.

This program, sponsored jointly by the Harding High School Athletic association and the Marion Boosters' club, is aimed primarily at providing bigger and better facilities for football games at the Harding stadium. It should be given the whole-hearted support of all followers of school sports and the public generally. Many improvements, including erection of 1,692 new bleacher seats, are already under way. To help meet the cost a new ticket sale system has been arranged.

Following today's news story there will be several other articles relating to the school sports situation.

STORM STRIKES TEXAS COAST

By The Associated Press

GALVESTON, Tex., Aug. 25—Severe rainfall lashed this area today in the wake of a howling tropical storm that scored a bull's eye on Galveston and its explosion-scarred neighbor, Texas City.

Heavy, driving rains accompanied the squalls that swept it from the tide-swollen Gulf of Mexico. Even as the tropical storm was blowing itself out farther inland it claimed at least one victim.

Thirty-five to 40 Negro convicts at a prison farm near Houston took advantage of rain and high winds and escaped early today. Ten were recaptured, but the others are believed to have headed for Houston to lose themselves in Texas' largest city. T. T. Easley, night warden at prison headquarters in Huntsville, said the men sawed their way free.

The storm, with winds of 68 to

MISSING DELAWARE GIRL BACK HOME

Charlotte Glassburn Returns After Absence of Month.

(Special to The Star)

DELAWARE, Aug. 25—Charlotte Glassburn, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton E. Glassburn, of Delaware, returned home Friday from New York after being missing for nearly a month.

"She was just homesick," Mrs. Glassburn said.

Charlotte rode her bicycle to Marion July 23 and then took a bus to New York. A statewide police alarm was issued from Delaware July 25 but was canceled a few hours later when a telegram from New York informed the Glassburns that their daughter was there.

Since that time New York City police have been searching at the instigation of Mr. Glassburn and Delaware officials. Mr. Glassburn on a personal trip to New York failed to locate her.

The girl said she liked New York very much and plans to return in two years after she finishes her two remaining years in high school. She is determined to continue her voice studies, the mother said. In New York Charlotte worked in an office while studying voice, Mrs. Glassburn explained, adding that the girl had received encouragement in her singing.

State Fair Stove Blast Brings Injury to Pair

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 25—A grandstand restaurant oven exploded today at Ohio State fair, burning two persons.

Neither was injured seriously.

Red Cross officials said the explosion apparently was caused by "concealed gas."

Injured were William Jones, 32, burned on both arms, and Mrs. Gwendolyn Obey, 33, burned on the right hand, both of Columbus.

Finder of Carolyn Leader in Schools

Samuel W. Almendinger, Carolyn Peterson's finder, is a well-known Marion county farmer and for many years has taken an active interest in the county school system.

He taught school in the county for a number of years and in 1914 became a member of the first county board of education. He served in this capacity until 1932. For eight years he was county school examiner. He is a graduate of Ohio Northern university at Ada.

Mr. Almendinger is the father-in-law of Harold Kuehner, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Kuehner, who reared Mr. Peterson from the time he was orphaned at 9 years of age.

Dramatic Account of Lost Baby's Safe Return from 80 Hours in Fields

corner of the field which is nearest the Peterson house. She didn't seem to be in such bad condition and as I walked the 100 feet to the corner she noticed an airplane which was flying low over the area and pointed up at it.

"When I got to the corner of the field I came to a high wire fence with two strands of barbed wire on top. I thought I would try to call over to the house. It is only about 600 feet away and I thought I could make some one hear.

"If they didn't hear me I knew I could get over that fence and take the child home.

"But they did hear me and pretty soon I saw four persons coming across from the house. The first one there was Ed Knappenberger (Waldo resident). Mrs. Peterson's sister (Mrs. Leona Murphy) got there next and I handed her the baby.

"The sister started back with the child and met Mr. and Mrs. Peterson before they got to the corner." (The parents dropped behind when Mrs. Peterson fell twice in her haste and Mr. Peterson stopped to assist her to her feet.)

Mr. Almendinger asked Mr. Knappenberger to cross the fence to see the spot where the child was found. They marked the spot by sticking the stalk of iron weed in a split fence post beside which the girl was sitting.

Let Mr. Almendinger continue with his story.

"It was the most thrilling experience of my life to see that little lost, helpless child sitting there. I'll never forget it as long as I live. It's so marvelous and amazing I can't explain it.

"If I had walked just 10 feet farther I would have missed her entirely. When I got to thinking about this last night (Saturday night) I couldn't sleep a wink.

"I covered that same route Thursday morning while I was looking for the child. There were other men searching in the same vicinity, but she was nowhere in sight."

After the child was returned to the Peterson home the parents rushed her to the City hospital where she was given immediate medical attention.

Shouts Tidings Across Field

All the drama, however, was not at the corner of the line fences where Mr. Almendinger stood with the child in his arms, shouting across the field for assistance.

His calls brought immediate action at the Peterson home.

Mr. Peterson and Mr. Knappenberger were in the house. Mrs. Peterson and her sister, Mrs. Murphy were in the yard to the south and out of sight of Mr. Almendinger.

Nevertheless they heard the calls. An exclamation from Mrs. Peterson and the sight of her running past a window brought Peterson and Knappenberger into quick action. They ran outside, saw Mr. Almendinger across the field and all four started the race toward him.

Mother's Fear Dispelled

Mrs. Peterson said later that when she saw Mr. Almendinger standing in the distance with the child in his outstretched arms she felt her baby was dead. This fear was quickly dispelled when Mr. Knappenberger, arriving first, turned toward the others, threw up his hand and shouted:

"She's alive! She's alive-"

Mr. Almendinger returned to the search for the cows. He found them a few minutes later. They were working their way toward the gate, picking grass as they went.

In a short time they would have been at their usual place at the end of the lane and had Mr. Almendinger left his house a few minutes later the search for them—the search that led to the discovery of the child—would not have been necessary.

"There seems to be a providence about these things," he said simply.

No Alarm at First

Last Wednesday morning when little Carolyn Jeannette slipped away from the watchful eye of her mother while playing in the yard with her brother Carl Edward, 3, there wasn't much of an air of mystery in the case.

It was generally believed she was some where in the immediate vicinity. It was thought not too difficult a matter to find her.

As the day wore on, however, the searchers became more and more baffled as what appeared to be a thorough scouring of the territory within a mile and a half of the house proved fruitless.

Toy Is First Clue

With a posse of more than 100 men and all officers from the sheriff's office joining in the search the only clue turned up was the finding of the top of an aluminum coffee pot which the Peterson children used as a toy. This was located at the intersection of route 98 and the Donithen road about 500 feet south of the Peterson house.

Two other bits of information turned up Wednesday night that tended to add more confusion to the case and actually resulted in throwing the searchers off their course.

One was the report from Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cocherl of east of Waldo that they had seen Carolyn toddling south along the east side of route 98 at about 10:45 a. m. They reported her near the Donithen road intersection.

The other was the rather vague story of three-year-old Carl Edward that he had seen Carolyn go into a corn field east of the house and that a man got out of a yellow car and went in after her.

Both these reports led searchers to the belief that she had traveled to the south or east of the house. The result was that the search was conducted more intensely in this region.

The report of the yellow car and the failure to find the girl by Thursday noon resulted directly in the belief the child had been kidnaped.

Speculation on Route

Her course to the point northwest of her home probably will never be known. Only by speculation from evidence at hand can her probable route be determined. It appears quite likely that she made almost a complete circle of the territory around her home, traveling about a mile and a quarter in doing so.

County officials and others interested in attempting to solve the riddle have come to practically unanimous conclusion as to the route the child took to reach the spot where Mr. Almendinger found her.

Starting with the Cocherl report placing her south of the house, it is believed she continued in this direction until she reached the Donithen road, which runs east and west. There she discarded the coffee pot toy and set out westward on the gravel Donithen road.

Moving westward at a childish toddling gait, she traversed about 500 feet of this road until she came to a long narrow field running along the east side of the Ququa ditch.

Open Gate To Field

Entrance to this field is accessible through an open gate over ground level with the highway. The field, about 200 feet in width, was not in cultivation this year and had grown up in high weeds. The weeds, however, had been mowed lately, leaving a heavy, coarse stubble.

The west side of this field is bounded by the tree and brush-lined Ququa ditch. On the east side is a north and south fence, heavily overgrown with briars, elders and other bushes.

At the south end of the field, near the Donithen road, is the remains of an old gravel bank. The field and the area to the east is slightly rolling, low hills screening it from view from the west.

1,000 Feet from Home

By the time the child traversed the length of this field she was at a point about 1,000 feet west and slightly north of the Peterson house.

The field is owned by Wilbur Rengert, who lives on route 23. At the north end is an east-west line fence separating the Rengert property from Mr. Almendinger's thicket-pasture in which the child was found.

The field comes to a narrow point at the north end, being nearly cut off by a curve in the Ququa ditch. Across this point is the Rengert and Almendinger line fence. The fence at this point, although it will turn cattle, is in poor condition.

Openings in Fence

There are several holes through which Carolyn could easily have passed. Adults visiting the scene yesterday used them without difficulty, even though they were low to the ground.

Once through the fence and in the Almendinger pasture the child had two courses open. One to the left, or west, would have carried her over a 10-foot high bank and probably dumped her into the ditch. The other was to the right, or east, into the brush free border around the pasture. Large trees and underbrush along the ditch bank blocked the way to the north, or immediately in front of the child as she crawled through the fence.

Apparently she turned to the right, toward her final stopping place and in the general direction of the Peterson home. Her travels now were taking her nearer home. She had completed about three-quarters of the circle around the house.

Reaches Intersecting Fence

After turning right she traveled approximately 300 feet along the line fence until she came to an intersection of another line fence, this one north and south, which separates the Almendinger pasture from the farm on which the Peterson home is located. This land is owned by H. H. Beringer.

There was only one way to go this time and that was north. About 100 feet north of the fence intersection is the spot where Mr. Almendinger found her. He went back to the intersection to call the tidings across the field to the house.

IN MOTHER'S ARMS. Photographed at City hospital Saturday night Carolyn is held by her mother.

It is considered entirely possible that had it not been for this fence she might have returned to the house of her own accord. She may have been able to hear familiar voices at the house across the field from her last stopping place. Then too, she may have seen a familiar sight in the hogs pastured in the field to the east of the fence that stopped her. From her resting place she could watch the hogs in a wallow just through the fence. The pasture of these same hogs ran to the Peterson yard.

How long the child took to reach the spot where she was found is another thing that probably never will be known.

Missing for a total of 80 hours it is considered unlikely that she reached there even in a few hours after her disappearance.

However, it is probable that she covered most of the distance before tiring and growing weak from lack of food and water.

Many Covered Spots

Although searchers covered this entire area on several occasions, any one who has walked over the terrain will realize that there are literally hundreds of places where she could have crawled under bushes without being detected.

The east fence row along the long Ringert field would offer numerous places of concealment and the thicket in the pasture hundreds more. A thorough search of this territory would be impossible without lifting virtually every low hanging bush.

The physician who examined the child at the hospital said it is quite possible she slept a good portion of the time. He said she may even have lost consciousness for periods, only to regain her senses and move about again.

The fact that she shows no sign of sunburn is taken to indicate that she sought shelter under bushes. Briar and thorn scratches from head to foot also show she walked or crawled into the thickets.

Berries Source of Food

It is believed she obtained some food by eating blackberries which grow in abundance in the Almendinger pasture. Members of the family say she was exceptionally fond of berries and knew about picking them from several berry picking trips into the fields with her mother. She had a particular liking for berries on her breakfast cereal.

It is a coincidence that the mother, as she walked and ran to the LeRoy Bender residence a mile away on route 23 last Wednesday to call for help after learning that Carolyn had disappeared, traveled the same route the child took until she left the Donithen road to enter the long Ringert field.

But the child had a start of nearly an hour before her mother became thoroughly alarmed and ran for help. To go to the Bender home, where she called her husband from his carpenter job near Prospect, Mrs. Peterson also used the Donithen road. Mr. Peterson came back by this same route in answer to her call.

Before starting for help Mrs. Peterson made a hurried search of the buildings and immediate area around the house and took a quick look into a corn field immediately across the road from the house. By this time the child easily could have reached the open gate into the Rengert field.

Once inside the field the child would be screened from the field by the rolling land and the 20-foot high hedge row that lines the road. Besides, she was hurrying for help and had no thought the child could be in that vicinity.

Gets Speedy Hospital Care

Arrival of the child at the hospital brought a sudden flurry of activity. She was given immediate attention by nurses and physicians.

Her once bright orange sunsuit, now soiled and stained with dirt, was stripped from her. One shoe was missing and that unprotected foot showed many scratches and cuts from briars and thorns.

Her little body was bathed to remove an infestation of vermin that had developed during her exposure. Her long blond curls that had been the pride and joy of her mother were matted and darkened with dirt.

After receiving first attention she was placed in the pediatrics ward with a number of other children.

Physicians reported her body was a mass of briar and thorn scratches and skin punctures and that many of the barbs were removed from the skin. There were no marks on the body to indicate any other injuries, the attending physician said.

The physician would make no definite statement regarding the length of time the child had been exposed. "It would be difficult to determine the time with any degree of accuracy," he said.

"The child stood the ordeal remarkably well considering what she went through. She is responding well to treatment but we expect to keep her in the hospital for three or four days, or until she returns to her normal diet," he said.

Evidence of Starvation

When first brought to the hospital she was "avid for food and water." Everything her hands touched she tried to place in her mouth. Her body was said to be badly dehydrated from lack of water and she was in a starvation condition, it was reported.

For the first 12 hours she was given only an ounce of water and tea each half hour. Liquids also were injected under the skin.

Yesterday she got small quantities of milk and her first soft food such as ice cream, custard and gelatin.

The physicians said the quantity of food will be gradually increased until she is back on normal diet.

She was said to be terribly restless Saturday night but by Sunday had begun to quiet down.

The physician said it would be difficult to determine from her nervous condition whether she had been frightened or in hysteria at any time during her 80 hours of exposure. She appeared quiet and calm, however, when found by Mr. Almendinger.

Found Respite in Sleep

The physician then explained that she probably slept a considerable portion of the time and may have lapsed into unconsciousness for periods of time.

That the child obtained some food and moisture from berries also was held possible by the physician.

He said she showed "no signs of pulmonary infection or sun burn."

Investigators see no mystery about the lack of sunburn in view of the opportunities for protection afforded by the heavy undergrowth. Patches of thorn bushes especially offered good protection since they are a thick mass of branches which extend to within a foot or so of the ground.

In a search of the scene where the child was found authorities located at least one spot where they believe she slept. It was under a thick bush on a heavy mat of blue grass. This spot was only a few feet from where Mr. Almendinger made his discovery. The search was made at 6:30 a. m. yesterday by Sheriff Retterer, Deputy Edgar Fink, Mr. Peterson and LeRoy Bender.

Heavy bushes also would have provided considerable protection from the three hard rain storms that hit the area during the time the child was lost. Temperatures in the daytime ranged up to 90 degrees. Warm nights during the time were a favorable condition.

Pictures Taken

Activity at the hospital did not cease with Carolyn safely in bed.

Out in the hall arrangements were being made with the assistance of Miss Agnes Armitage, supervising nurse, for news photographers to get pictures of the child. This was done with the approval of law authorities, the parents and the attending physician.

The photographers were in the room not more than two minutes. The child seemed to take interest in the flashing bulbs as she was photographed with her parents and sitting alone in her bed.

Only one incident marred the newsmen's work. While other photographers were waiting for Miss Armitage to complete arrangements an out-of-town cameraman attempted to slip into the ward without authority. He was quickly checked by Sheriff Retterer who nailed the offender by the wrist and pulled him from the room.

"Just take your time," the sheriff warned, "you'll get your picture when the others do." At that time photographers present represented three newspapers and two press associations.

Reorters also were on hand interviewing the parents and officials. Station WMRN set up a wire recorder to make a transcription for later broadcast. The parents, Sheriff Retterer and a number of others were interviewed.

Story Widely Published

Perhaps no news story originating in Marion in many years has attracted the attention given the disappearance of Carolyn. The story has been given outstanding "play" in papers all over the country ever since it was first reported Wednesday.

The interest reached a new peak Saturday night with the finding of the child. The story broke at a time when editors were rushing to meet early Sunday edition deadlines.

While all news associations were carrying detailed accounts of the story, newspapers from many cities kept the wires hot to The Star office for additional information. Calls came Saturday night from papers in Chicago, Toledo, Cleveland and Columbus.

Some calls were placed direct to newsmen at the hospital and at least one metropolitan news writer held a long distance telephone interview with Mr. Peterson at the hospital.

Since the child first disappeared the modest route 98 home has been the center of attention. Neighbors and friends were there constantly to offer assistance and to inquire about developments in the search. As word the child was missing spread through newspapers and over radio, motorists using the highway soon located the house. Many slowed speed as they passed while others stopped to inquire or offer assistance. Mr. Peterson said several parties, complete strangers to him, left their cars and made their own search of the cornfield and other spots.

The finding of the child brought many Sunday motorists past the house and down the Donithen road.

News Reel Adds Scene

A news reel made Saturday of dragging operations in the Olentangy river was given a new turn and a complete ending when the cameraman returned to the scene Sunday to take additional pictures.

The cameraman shot several additional reels of film at the scene where the child was found. Prominent in the picture is Mr. Almendinger, who was photographed pointing to the "spot."

The scene was given reality when 4-year-old Larry Dennison was used as a model to show the position in which Mr. Almendinger found Carolyn. Larry played the part well until at the instruction of the cameraman Mr. Almendinger picked him up to show how he carried little Carolyn to the fence to call for help.

Not completely "in" on what was going on, Larry let out a few lusty yells and soon struggled free.

He had been taken to the Peterson home yesterday afternoon by his father, Bernard Dennison of Marion, an acquaintance of the Petersons and an employe of the Schaffner-Denzer funeral home. Pictures also were taken of Mr. Almendinger and Mr Peterson. Mr. and Mrs. Peterson had been photographed the day before.

"Intermediary" Offer

While authorities and everyone concerned in the case held to the kidnaping theory an offer came to The Star Saturday from a Columbus man who proposed to act as an intermediary in any contact between the parents and the kidnapers. In a special delivery letter reaching The Star about 4 o'clock he offered "to keep everything secret and to travel anywhere—by plane in the day and by auto at night."

Parents Worn from Strain

Both Mr. and Mrs. Peterson are near exhaustion from their long vigil. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Peterson remained in the house with friends and relatives but Mr. Peterson came out to accompany the news reel cameraman to the thicket.

"This certainly has taken a great load from our shoulders," he said, "we're both tired and want to get some rest. I'm going to take it easy for a couple of days before I go back to work." He is a carpenter and at the time the child disappeared was working at the George Williams farm near Prospect.

One of the interested spectators at the discovery scene yesterday was Wilbur Williams, son of George Williams, who drove Mr. Peterson to his home when he first received word the child was missing.

While the group was assembled in the thicket pasture Mr. Peterson put one hand on Mr. Almendinger's shoulder and said, "I can't say it very well, Mr. Almendinger, but I want you to know how much we appreciate what you have done."

It was a tense moment for the group of perhaps a dozen there at the time but the mood quickly changed to a lighter vein when Mr. Almendinger responded: "I know you do Charley, but I don't want any credit." Jokingly he added, "I guess if there is any credit due anywhere it is to those two cows I couldn't find."

As Peterson looked out over the land where he and his family have made their home for four years he suddenly exclaimed: "You know, I believe I'll go ahead with my plans to build a house on two acres of ground I have been trying to buy." He referred to a tract on route 98, just south of the Donithen road.

Frances Bacon translated one volume of his essays into Latin thinking they might not survive if printed in English only.

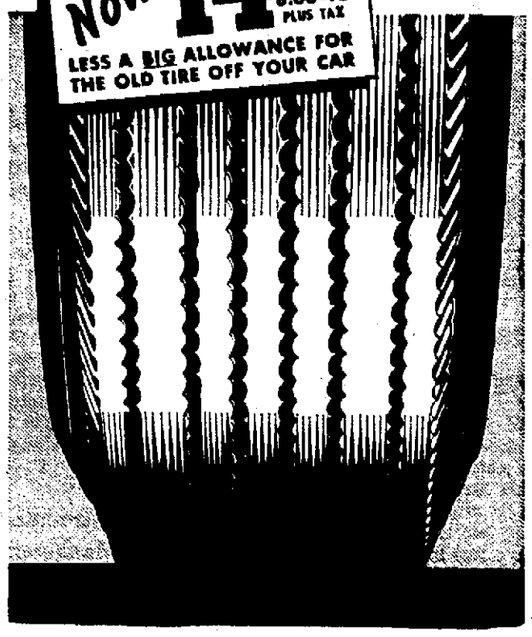
The last 1000 miles are the danger miles ...don't drive past the danger point
FORMER PRICE $16.10 PLUS TAX
NOW $14.40 6.00-16 PLUS TAX
LESS A BIG ALLOWANCE FOR THE OLD TIRE OFF YOUR CAR



B. F. Goodrich Silvertowns that outwear prewar tires...now at less than prewar prices!

We have a big market for sound used tires.

On your car, it is impossible to detect the exact condition of a tire. But we have the experience and equipment to examine them thoroughly, to detect flaws and to select casings suitable for repairing, recapping or reconditioning. This knowledge is extra money in your pocket, because we can give you a bigger allowance if your tires can be made safe for further use.

And this allowance comes off the already lower-than-prewar price of most popular-sized B. F. Goodrich Silvertowns that outwear prewar tires. This new tire has a wider tread that runs flush-to-the-road, gives greater road contact, firmer footing, more even wear, more road grip. Finer, sturdier cords and more of them give the tire greater strength and suppleness to resist the road pounding of high speeds.

So don't be satisfied with less than the best when the tire that outwears prewar tires costs so little.

Thomas A. Edison's Widow Dies At Age of 82 of Heart Failure

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug 25 — Mrs. Mina Miller Edison, 82, who lived to see her husband, the late Thomas A. Edison, hailed as one of the greatest inventors in history and one of her sons become a cabinet member and governor of New Jersey, died last night.

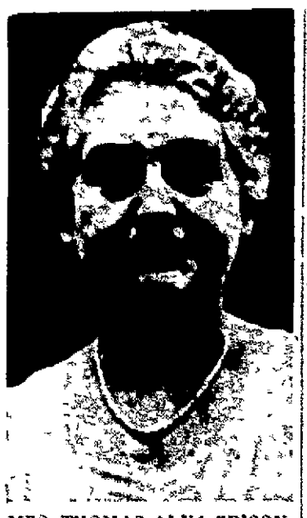
Former Secretary of the Navy Charles Edison, inventor Thomas Miller Edison and Mrs John Eyre Sloane were at their mo...'s bedside when she died in Harkness pavilion of the Columbia Presbyterian medical center, a few hours after lapsing into a coma She had been a patient there since July 16 Dr James Coss, her physician, said the "presumptive cause of death was cardiac failure."

A friend of Herbert Hoover and his late wife, Mrs Edison worked actively in both of Hoover's presidential campaigns But in 1943 saying she was "ashamed of my party" in New Jersey, she announced she would be a political independent.

Artists called her one of America's most beautiful women when she became, at 21, the second wife of Thomas A Edison, then 39, and already earning his title "The Wizard of Menlo Park."

In an article written for The Associated Press early this year in connection with the centennial of Edison's birth she told of having to readjust her home life to her husband's working hours but said she could look back on those wonderful years and see nothing in them but compensation • • • What we were doing was for a man accomplishing great things in the world."

Edison died in 1931. In, 1935,



MRS. THOMAS ALVA EDISON

• • •

Mrs Edison and a lifetime friend, Edward E Hughes of Franklin, Pa lawyer and steel manufacturer were married He died five years later, and the widow preferred to use the name Edison

Born at Akron, July 16, 1865 Mrs Edison was the daughter of Lewis Miller, who with Bishop John H Vincent founded the Chautauqua Institute She inherited her father's interest in this cultural activity, and in 1922 became the fourth woman trustee of the institute.

Pullman Company Asks Sleeping Car Rate Hike

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO Aug 25—C. R Hard ng, president of the Pullman Company, said application for increased sleeping car charges throughout the country would be filed today with the interstate commerce commission

Harding said in a statement that increased wages and higher costs of materials and supplies as well as declining travel volume has made rate increases necessary

The proposed increases, Harding said, are figured on a scale of percentages, with the greatest advances asked for short trips and no additional charges sought for trips on which the present lower berth charge exceeds $17 35

A new minimum charge of $3 50 for pullman berth service is sought by the company

EXPERIENCE IS THE BEST TEACHER!

From the simple forward dives off the low boards to the intricate spins and twists off the high boards and towers, Mildred O'Donnell mastered them all to win New York's Metropolitan diving championship

"In diving, you practice and try until you find the forms and styles that suit you best," explains Champion Mildred O'Donnell.

IT'S TRUE IN DIVING... EXPERIENCE IS THE BEST TEACHER! ...AND IN SMOKING TOO. THE CIGARETTE FOR ME IS CAMEL!

Mildred O'Donnell

DIVING CHAMPION

More people are smoking CAMELS than ever before!

YOUR "T-ZONE" WILL TELL YOU...
T for Taste...
T for Throat...
That's your proving ground for any cigarette. See if Camels don't suit your "T-Zone" to a "T"
CAMEL
CHOICE TOBACCOS

Yes, experience during the wartime shortage taught smokers the differences in cigarette quality!

DIVING Champion Mildred O'Donnell hasn't forgotten the wartime shortage of cigarettes. "I never realized there were such differences in cigarettes until the shortage," she recalls. "That's when I really learned what cigarette suits me best—Camel." Many a smoker had the same experience, and reached the same conclusion —with the result that more people are smoking Camels than ever before.

But, no matter how great the demand: We don't tamper with Camel quality. Only choice tobaccos, properly aged, and blended in the time-honored Camel way, are used in Camels.

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

IT WAS NO FUN, the cigarette shortage; but it was a real experience, smoking many different brands. That's when smoker after smoker learned the meaning of the phrase, "Camels suit my 'T-Zone' to a 'T.'"

According to a recent Nationwide survey:

MORE DOCTORS SMOKE CAMELS than any other cigarette

Three nationally known independent research organizations asked 113,597 doctors—in every branch of medicine—to name the cigarettes they smoked. More doctors named Camel than any other brand.

Demand Rises To Name Street In Washington, D.C. After Ohio

"Why," one Ohioan asked, "can't another street be named Ohio?"

Even congress has considered the matter. Rep Thomas A. Jenkins of Ironton, introduced a bill It would have required the proper authorities to act Jenkins' idea was to change the name of colorful Independence avenue or historic Bladensburg road to Ohio avenue.

"That would be nice but we have to consider history," Jenkins quoted a city official as replying "But we're still looking around. We haven't forgotten Ohio"

The latest check discloses that the final decision is up to officials of the District of Columbia And their offices say the issue is being handled personally by Francis F. Healy, the D. C surveyor.

Ex-Senator Gets Laugh

Former Senator James W. Huffman (D-Ohio) got at least one good laugh when he visited the White House last week.

"You," a reporter told him "were a lot better news when you were a senator than you are now."

"Of course," he chuckled. "All senators are"

The son-in-law of Ohio's Vic Donahey insisted that his talk with President Truman had "something" to do with his (Huffman's) law practice.

Friends say it keeps him extremely busy

Aside from telling reporters that his call was connected with law business, Huffman said he is not looking for a federal job

And "at this time," he added, he isn't interested in public office

The phrase, "at this time," puzzled some observers here

They were sure that a former Democratic senator from Ohio who called at the White House is "still very much in politics"

So much so that he'll probably run for the senate again He was defeated in the last election by John W. Bricker, three times governor

The closest Huffman came to discussing politics was to say that he thought the President is doing a good job and that Democratic chances for 1948 are good

Church St. Man Bids For Tomato Honors

"Tallest and best bearing tomatoes in town" is the boast of Ray Snyder of 853 East Church street concerning his seven-foot three-inch plants which are growing 22 to 36 tomatoes to the vine A dozen plants in all, seven are at or over the seven-foot figure, while the rest are over six feet in length. They are growing in the garden lot back of the Snyder home. The plants were set out in April and first ripe tomatoes were gathered July 25. Mr. Snyder says he does not know the variety of the tomatoes.

Other vegetables in the 15x15 foot garden include potatoes, onions beets and cabbage The soil, which Mr. Snyder calls the "best" ground, is producing its second crop of beets this season, has produced three crops of onions, with a fourth coming on, and has so far yielded a return of an estimated $50 worth of vegetables The lot has been in garden four years

Politically Bankrupt

A TOTTERING cabinet in Greece and frantic efforts to keep a conservative government from crumbling under the onslaught of a revolution call American attention to a need that never will be filled by the Marshall plan, assuming it materializes.

The Marshall plan would bolster weak European governments with economic support, some of it generated by the governments themselves, the rest furnished by the United States. But economic support isn't going to be enough to check the spread of authoritarianism in Europe.

Greece has assurance of some $300,000,000 of United States economic support—but 10 times that much wouldn't conceal the well-known fact of Greece's political bankruptcy. As the United States is just now beginning to realize in the case of Great Britain, there is no magic in money; it cannot overcome the handicaps of people whose political initiative has been deadened or frustrated.

It has been no secret from the beginning that many Greeks have turned to the political movement backed by the Kremlin because they found it impossible to believe in the government being backed by the United States and Great Britain. In the view of such persons, anything would be better than what they already have; they are mentally prepared to jump from the frying pan into the fire because the frying pan is no longer endurable.

That was the way Hitler got his start in Germany, by using the desperation of people who had been misruled so long they were willing to try anything that promised a change. That is the doctrine behind the Kremlin's encouragement of European chaos: that chaos will make people so desperate they will turn to the Russian brand of terrorism. The United States will need to send more than an economic assistance to the Europeans who are going to be saved from communism. They will need to be saved first from the misrule that helps make communism seem attractive.

Wishes and Orders

THE investigation into Lt. Gen. John C. H. Lee's command in Italy has settled down to a simmer, with the Army's inspector general, Maj. Gen. Ira Wyche, on hand to look into the situation. Gen. Lee invited press correspondents to make inspections to their hearts' content and so they have, without turning up anything of a particularly incrimination nature.

One of the complaints which seems to have some basis was that enlisted men were high-pressured into buying $4 memberships in the Anglo-American fellowship on company officers' representation that "it was the commanding general's desire." This has caused some embarrassment to Gen. Lee. His chief of staff says "the concept that even a general's desire is a command should be as dead as Napoleon."

This is an observation that passed down through every level of command, for a general's wish too often is treated as an order. Ask any second lieutenant who has has to present himself at a dreary tea because "it was the commanding general's desire" that all officers of the command be present.

Forrestal & Co.

THE president's appointment of Army, Navy and Air Force secretaries to serve under Defense Secretary Forrestal completes the top-echelon command for the unified armed forces.

Kenneth C. Royal, present war secretary, will be Army secretary; John L. Sullivan, present Navy undersecretary, will serve as naval chief, and W. Stuart Symington, assistant war secretary for air, will become Air Force secretary. All three, as well as Secretary Forrestal, have served in the armed forces and each was the logical appointee on the basis of experience.

Much of the success or failure of unification depends on the collaboration of these four men. There are some who believe that, rather than unifying anything, unification will compound confusion and sharpen inter-service rivalry. If the team of Forrestal & Co. operates like the partnership it is supposed to be, these critics will have to change their minds.

Lick the Platter Clean

WITH the specter of famine likely to materialize more terribly this winter, 47 nations' representatives will convene late this month in Switzerland to study ways of equitably distributing the world's food stockpile.

The worldwide food shortage may affect us all, at least indirectly. Americans, not likely to go hungry, may experience some shortages, may be asked to observe a meatless day each week. One thing we all can do before such a program becomes a reality is put more emphasis on food conservation. Children especially should be taught that food nowadays isn't just expensive; it's precious.

The sign that was in most Army mess halls during the war is just as apropos today. It read, "take what you want, but eat what you take."

Steel and Inflation

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Economy of U. S. Based Upon Metal Products.

THE administration shouts anti-inflation out of the right side of its mouth and talks pro-inflation out of the left side. In deeds, this administration, since V-J day, has been inflationary, utilizing the full force of the administration to increase the cost of production, which inevitably must mean an increase in prices. The original theory upon which it acted was designed by Henry Wallace, as secretary of commerce, that it is possible to raise wages without raising prices, which proved to be incorrect, resulting only in a wage-rise-price-rise spiral that is not yet completed.

The price of steel is a basic factor in this situation, for the economy of the United States is grounded upon the manufacture and use of iron and steel products. Even our agriculture and price of agricultural products are affected by the price and availability of steel. The present steel capacity of the United States is 91,000,000 tons, which is at least one-half of the world production, if excessively liberal allowances are made for Russian production, concerning which we can only guess. The probability is that American steel provides even a larger amount.

Figuring Year's Production

The actual steel production in 1947 will be about 85,000,000 tons. Steel men tell me that if more and better scrap were available, they could produce with current plant and equipment an additional 6,000,000 tons. To indicate the measure of increased productivity during war years, the production in 1939 was 63,000,000 tons.

Roughly steel prices have been increased 45 per cent since 1939. Scrap costs have risen 98 per cent since April, 1946. The steel industry states that the weekly earnings of steel workers, according to their payroll figures, have gone up 101 per cent since 1939. They also state that they are expending $448,000,000 this year for new equipment and modernization. Generally speaking, most steel men are opposed to sudden and arbitrary expansion, because while they admit present shortages they point to the amazing productivity of their plants during the war years.

Not Cause of Shortages

The export of steel from this country does not account for the shortages. It runs between six and seven per cent of production, according to figures available. Steel manufacturers explain the shortages as due to the fact that during the war years they were required to produce steels essential for the conduct of the war and that, with delays in reconversion due to strikes, shortages of materials, reconditioning machinery, lowering of efficiency, they have been unable to catch up with the huge current demand in all types of steel products, particularly for consumers' goods. Once they do catch up, the present plant and equipment, they say, will be ample plus the already planned expansion and modernization. They fear that over-expansion will wreck the industry. The CIO and some parts of the administration favor additional expansion, including government expenditures for that purpose.

There can be no denying that American businessmen generally do not favor the use of government funds to expand industries because experience has shown that it invites speculative, barnstorming individuals who tend to create false values and false standards.

Point To Be Considered

One factor in this situation is that it takes steel to make steel. Depending upon the size of expansion, it will take that much steel to erect plant and equipment and to that extent it will reduce the quantity of steel available for the purpose of increasing stocks of steel capital and consumers' goods. This factor must be considered in view of current shortages. A gradual expansion can absorb such use of steel.

This is a problem not for political agitation but for managerial engineering. The facts of the case need to be stated with precise accuracy, and to the facts the best judgment of the country should be applied. We can neither afford to be short of steel and steel products nor can we afford to overexpand this industry beyond reasonable necessity. This country cannot risk confusion in this industry, for that would disturb every other industry in the country. A disturbed steel industry means, for instance, a disturbed automobile industry. On the other hand, this country needs more steel than it now has and means must be found to produce it. Politics will not do it.

Just a Minute

By JACK TARVER

The Voice Is Familiar, But—

A Milwaukee lady has been granted a divorce from her husband, who insisted that she address him as "Major," the rank he held in the civilian air patrol.

One gathers she took the oath to love and to cherish . . . but not to honor his oak leaves.

He may have been a high flier in the CAP, but she was just the girl to ground him.

For that matter, a lot of citizens who were big shots in the martial services are having to get used to being buck privates in the marital one.

Yes sir, the old-fashioned helpmeet who referred to her spouse as "Major" or "Mister" is fast being replaced with one who calls him, simply, "Hey, You!"

In fact, it is strange how many men, when their wives speak pleasantly to them in company, look around somewhat startled to make sure she isn't talking to someone else.

The Heat Is On

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 — A pincers movement initiated by the Soviet Union is now in progress. One end of the pincers is closing in again on Iran. The other is well into Greece. As a result, there is serious speculation that congress may be asked, perhaps in special session, to send American troops to Greece. Every responsible official in Washington is praying that no such decision will be necessary. But the tempo of the Soviet assault is such that the American policy makers may be left with no alternative.

After high level conversations, the hard-pressed British have agreed to keep their few thousand troops in Greece till the end of the year. But the British have warned that their troops will then probably have to be withdrawn. The United States may then have no choice but to fill the vacuum.

Threatening Gesture

Meanwhile a major assault has been mounted in northern Greece by Communist General Markos, who last week announced in a broadcast from Yugoslavia the formation of a "free Greek government." What lends a somber significance to Markos' announcement is that fact that the Russians have withdrawn their diplomatic representatives from Athens. The Soviet embassy is now in the hands of caretakers and janitors. Yugoslavia has obediently followed suit. (Madame Tsakonovitch, wife of the Yugoslav attache, chose the occasion to hurl insults at the "Monarcho-Fascist" Greeks from the airport). What is feared, of course, is that Russia and her three satellite states on Greece's northern border will soon grant de facto recognition to the Markos regime. They could then proceed, under the color of legality, to give Markos open, all-out support.

If this happens, it will be the culmination of a carefully planned campaign. It is now known that within the last few weeks the three satellite leaders—Yugoslavia's Tito, Bulgaria's Dimitrov and Albania's Hocha — not only conferred among themselves, but journeyed to Moscow. From the Kremlin they received their instructions. Those instructions are now being carried out.

Not Limited

Nor were the instructions confined to the three Balkan satellites. Intelligence reports to the American government from all over Europe have relayed the information that Communists are being recruited for an "intternational brigade" to fight in Greece. Other intelligence reports, based on interviews with guerrillas captured in the fighting a few weeks ago, bear this out. Before the guerrillas were sent across the Greek border they were told that they were only the advance guard, and that they would be followed by a powerful international force.

The brigade failed to materialize. But meanwhile the intelligence reports have continued, including names and identities of those European Communists assigned to the new force. The reports have been trickling in from many countries, but particularly from France, Germany and Sweden. It requires no masterpiece of deduction to guess that the brigade is designed to bolster Markos' "free Greece" when the planners in the Kremlin believe that time is ripe.

Ahmed Qavam's Trouble

At the other end of the pincers, wiley old Ahmed Qavam, Premier of Iran, is under the fiercest pressure. Soviet Ambassador Sadjikov, who left in a huff some time ago, is back. He has told Qavam that the Soviet government will hold him personally responsible for Iranian acceptance of Soviet terms for an oil contract in northern Iran.

At the same time Qavam is under severe pressure from within the Iranian parliament to resist Sadjikov. There is no doubt that the parliament will vote the Soviet oil contract down. On purely commercial grounds, this is quite understandable. The proposed oil contract is similar in terms to an already existing Iranian-Russian contract for the exploitation of Iranian fisheries. By means of this contract the Russians have so arranged things that the Iranians are obliged to pay them about half a million dollars a year for the privilege of allowing the Russians to take away the Iranian fish. But no one believes that the Russian motives in regard to the oil contract are purely commercial. Last year the Soviets made a determined attempt to capture the Iranian government, and failed. They now want a base, which the oil contract would provide for them, to try again.

Reaction Forecast

When the Iranian parliament refuses to accept the Soviet contract, a violent Soviet reaction of some sort is expected. The heat will be turned full on. But the heat already is full on in Greece. Herschel Johnson's speech before the Security Council last week, which was reviewed at the highest level in the state department, firmly committed the United States not to abandon Greece. To abandon Greece would mean a catastrophic strategic defeat for this country. That is why the policy makers are not likely to change their minds. And that is why the next session of congress may be asked to approve the sending of American troops to replace the British in Greece next winter.

A HARD PULL

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Tuesday, Aug. 24, 1937.

The U. S. Construction Co. of Upper Sandusky was awarded a contract by the Marion county commissioners for surface treating 38 miles of county highways. Plans for the program were drafted by County Engineer Carl H. Tozzer.

Several hundred persons turned out for Marion county's first soy bean day, featuring an inspection of growing crops and a visit to the Old Fort Mills processing plant.

Edward Keefer, 82, and his wife, Mrs. Clara Higgins Keefer, 76, of near Dunkirk were killed instantly when their automobile was struck by a train.

Carl V. Weygandt, chief justice of the Ohio supreme court, was the speaker at the weekly Rotary club luncheon in Hotel Harding.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Wednesday, Aug. 24, 1927.

Many persons were injured in riots staged in Chicago, Boston and Paris and in other cities in this country and Europe as a result of the execution of Nicoli Sacco and Bartholomew Vanzetti, Communists, convicted of slaying two men in a payroll holdup.

Sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Clifford W. Chapman of West Columbia street, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Linder of Merchant avenue and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Holdridge of near Marion.

Mrs. B. F. Shurz of West Church street received word of the safe arrival in New York City of her daughter, Mrs. Emerson Schoenlaub, who had been on a tour of Europe. She was a resident of Wheeling, W. Va.

Mrs. Kate Goerlich and Miss Estaline Zieg gave a 6 o'clock dinner at the Goerlich home on Windsor street complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haberman who were to leave soon for Chicago where Mr. Haberman was employed in the city schools.

High Prices and Their Cause

By MARK SULLIVAN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 — Beginning about the middle of August and continuing to the present writing, a price-sick country has heard another flurry of official announcements followed by echoing agitation. But "flurry" is much too weak a word to describe the present stage of the series of spasms of inflationary prices. The present outgivings include:

A—Official announcement that prices had reached a new high level. This is nothing new, one high after another has become a chronic condition.

B—Announcement by the department of justice that it will investigate and start prosecutions against persons or corporations engaged in practices that amount to illegal agreements about prices. The announcement, by its wording and emphasis, indicated that this drive will deal mainly with prices of manufactured goods.

C—Announcement that on the 15th of next month a congressional committee will begin hearings about prices. This committee sounds formidable. It will be divided into three subcommittees, one to investigate prices in the east, another in the midwest, a third in the far west. The hearings, in the words of a resolution sponsored by Senator Baldwin of Connecticut, call for "full and complete study and investigation of the present high prices of consumer goods."

Timing Is Deplored

The head of the committee is Senator Taft of Ohio, and in this lies a degree of hope. Mr. Taft's ruggedness of personality and forthrightness of speech are such as to promise that he will pull no punches. This may be important. For high prices are caused by, or are beneficial to, several groups, each willing to call the other black, but vehement in defense of itself.

One group is labor, and from that source Senator Taft has already incurred hostility so intense that he would be under no political temptation to fear more. Another cause of high prices consists of policies of government executed by the Truman administration, and here likewise Mr. Taft as a Republican leader would be willing to let the chips fly free. Either from Senator Taft or from others on the committee may be willingness to speak freely about two other groups—manufacturers, who have comparatively little political weight, and farmers who have much weight in both parties.

Seriously impairing any expectation of effective action from the congressional committee is the factor of timing. It does not begin hearings until the middle of next month. By that time hearings that cover what has already taken place and what more is likely to happen during the next three weeks will be of the nature of post-mortem. Even more detrimental is the date of the conclusion of the committee's hearings, next Feb. 1. By that date, and especially by the later date, when action by congress can take place, much of the history of inflationary high prices will be water over the dam.

As for the drive against high prices by the justice department, a serious limitation is the necessary narrowness of its scope. As the law stands, whatever the department can do is limited mainly to action against manufacturers and distributors. Labor organizations are not within the scope of the anti-trust statutes, upon which the department proceeds. So far as wage rises demanded and won by labor unions play a part in causing high prices, this area is immune.

Another large cause of high prices consists of policies and pratices of the government, some of them authorized by law. This is especially a factor in the high prices of farm products, food. This area of high prices is especially important. Among all prices, those of farm products stand out. They are the highest, relative to the prices of other goods and also relative to the prices of farm products in the past. Moreover, high prices of farm products, food, are dynamic. Entering greatly into the cost of living, they become a cause of demands for wage increases by labor, which in turn are followed by increased prices of manufactured goods.

Calamity Is Feared

Seeing little prospect of check upon increasing prices by government, whether action by the Truman administration or action in time by congress, many place reliance on nature, on the law of supply and demand. But the working out of supply and demand is directly opposed by policies of the government. Many of the statutes and practices which compose the policy of "price support" for farm products are directly intended to prevent the law of supply and demand from operating.

Yet that natural law is formidable. Sooner or later manufacturers will have produced as much goods as will meet the present abnormal demand, at which stage lowering of prices should normally be expected. And sooner or later farmers in Europe will have restored their war-torn fields and bring their production of food back to the pre-war normal. This should end the abnormal European demand, which is a large cause of high prices of farm products in America.

Yet to suggest that the law of supply and demand will some day work is not to deny that the working of it may be so long prevented that in the meantime calamity may take place.

Daily Bible Thought

Millions have accepted evil council eagerly. We are apt to believe what we want to believe. Satan has no good thing to give to any one.—Matt 4:10: "Get thee hence Satan."

Pitching Horseshoes

By BILLY ROSE

I CAN never think of the snappy come- until hours later. The other night at a cu- party we were talking of the manpower sho- age. To make conversation, I asked the gu- my right whether she had heard of it. "Hea- of it?" she cracked. "I'm looking at it."

I tried to think of a topper, but all I manage was, "I'll bet you say that to all the boys."

Home in bed that night, I thought of p- of answers I might have exploded around e- ears—"I don't know whether to kiss you or s- a trap for you."—"No self-respecting 8-ou- would be seen in front of you."—"With yo- tongue and a loaf of bread we could open a delicatessen."—"A head like yours coming o- of a manhole would start a soccer game in an neighborhood."

But it was too late. I was home in bed an- didn't even know Jane the Ripper's phone num- ber. I admit I'm slow on the draw, but the thi- that puzzles me after 20 years on the Great W- Way is that I'm never around when any of th- great yockadoodle lines are born. I've enter- tained and been entertained by many of th- legendary quip-flippers—George S. Kaufma- Moss Hart, Ben Hecht, Deems Taylor, Osca- Levant, William Saroyan, Groucho Marx, Georg- M. Cohan, Willie Collier—all the way back t- Wilson Mizner. We've dined, played cards an- sat around making chitchat. It's all bright an- amusing, but not more than once a year have been on the scene when a line worth repeatin- was uttered.

WELL then, where do the jokes come from? They're made up in bed hours afterward- They're twisted and pulled and penciled an- papered. They're told and retold, and keep get- ting better with each telling.

This goes not only for the cracks they- repeatng tonight at the Stork club, but for th- niffties Euclid told around the library in Alex- andria.

There's a gag 2,000 years old about a Gree- named Phocion who, when asked by his barb- how he wanted his hair trimmed, said, "In silence." I don't doubt Phocion said it, but m- guess is the joke didn't occur to him until hou- later in the baths. He then told it around th- sheet-and-sandal set, and went down in th- smile files as the Greek "Bugs" Baer.

I suppose you've heard of the toastmaster w- introduced a speaker thus, "Mr. Jones is a re- markable fellow. You have only to put a dinne- in his mouth and out comes a speech." Jones- they tell it, ad libbed back, "Our toastmaster- even more remarkable. You have only to put- speech in his mouth and out comes your dinner."

Well, that's the way Jones told it to Mr- Jones at breakfast next morning. Ten to one h- started his speech, "Ladies and Gentlemen, un- accustomed as I am...."

CONSIDER these famous snappers, all accept- ed as having been made off the cuff:

Paul Bourget: "When an American has noth- ing to do he can always spend a few years tryi- to discover who his grandfather was."

Mark Twain: "Right, Monsieur. And when a- other interests fail a Frenchman, he can alway- try to find out who his father was."

* * *

A friend: "It is very good of you to say suc- pleasant things of Monsieur X when he alway- says such nasty things of you."

Voltaire: "Perhaps we are both mistaken."

* * *

Young man: "I hope I'm not boring you."

Rochefoucauld: "We may forgive those who bore us—but never those we bore."

* * *

Just between us girls, do you believe the- are spur-of-the-moment lines, or did Tom- Voltaire and Rochefoucauld write a dozen drafts before they turned the final version over to th- publisher?

Well, you might ask, "Who does ad lib funn- lines?" The answer is Bob Hope, who, accord- to last week's "Variety," has eleven writers o- his pay roll.

Six Delicious Flavors

By TRUMAN TWILL

Our assistant in charge of keeping an ey- peeled for hootnannies that will bring ne- power and glory to American civilization ha- turned in a honey—a super hoot-nanny tha- perfumes shower-bath water on the way dow- so the bather comes out smelling like somethin- he is not.

This boon to better living, if and when- becomes available, will dispense the customar- six delicious flavors, which leads to earnest di- cussion of summertime scenting. It is estimate- that during the recent warm weather enou- perfume has been used in this country, over a- above the average for a normal year, to conceal the natural aroma of a Chinese city, 23 zoo- cattle train on the Pere Marquette and a loose- room after a football game.

Besides the six delicious flavors—Tiger- Passion, Lotus Drippings, Honeydew Supreme- Night in Nashville, Chase-Me and Shave- Lotion—untold gallons of other deceiving es- sences have been sprinkled on, rubbed on- shaken on, slapped on, daubbed on and other- wise employed in a strategic manner to conceal the fact it's-sure-hot-ain't-it-pard?

It is the biggest job of covering up one smel- with another since the Ringling people had th- bright idea of concealing the fact a circus lio- doesn't take a tub bath twice a day. Complete reports aren't available, but this probably ha- been the greatest boom the perfume industr- ever had. Stocks have been depleted to the da- appearing point. A few more weeks of this an- people might have to face the grim fact tha- people smell like people.

This is to suggest, timidly, that worse than could happen. Or it might be worth an experi- ment to see what would happen if people, in- stead of smelling like flowers—which they do- —were to smell like other publicized and mo- readily available smells. Printer's ink, for in- stance. Why shouldn't printers want to smel- like printer's ink?

Actors, of course, would want to smell lik- grease paint. Circus people and carnival peop- would want to smell like their outfits smell- heady mixture of good and bad. Farmers would- smell of new-mown hay, which is what m- farmers always expect farms to smell like- Sailors would smell of the sea.

Bakers would smell of fresh bread, janito- of sweeping compound, A-students would rel- of midnight oil, lawyers of dusty tomes, doctor- of antiseptic, athletes of arnica—and so on- and down the line of the occupations. All these odors would be available in concentrated form-

It would be a welcome variation from th- six delicious flavors. Everybody wouldn't smel- sweet and flower-like any more, which would be a triumph for human honesty.

Industry Built Shark Steaks

By The Associated Press

MOREHEAD CITY, N. C.—Shipping of frozen shark steaks has become an important Morehead City industry.

Ed Warren operates two boats in catching sharks some 15 miles off shore. The catch is processed and frozen here and then sent to markets from Tennessee to New York. Warren says there is a ready market for the steaks.

The sharks also provide fins for shark-fin soup, much esteemed by Orientals and gourmets, and their skins are snapped up by leather manufacturers. The livers, too, rich in vitamins, are easily sold. Some of them weigh as much as 100 pounds.

Booby-Trapped Shangri-La Repels Bad Guests

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 — Our candidate today for the honor of solving the married American problem is favorite "pinup boy" Harry Paynter.

His distinction?

It happened to be the only man ever annoyed enough to really solve the problem of uninvited guests, said Paynter modestly.

Hal Boyle

His household is no longer troubled by unexpected out-of-town visitors since he bought a mountain built a home on it and booby - trapped the approaches.

"Hank," a well known newspaperman and Air Force veteran with a sweeping mustache that looks like two wings taking off from his upper lip, designed this desperate solution only after long suffering.

Originally he and his wife lived in Greenwich village, but finally moved out and abandoned the apartment to their many guests.

Guests Crowd Lawn

"We took an isolated place on Long Island," Hank recalled, "but it soon became impossible to mow the lawn because of the guests draped on it."

The Paynters then took a lonely farm halfway up a long hill 90 miles from New York. It was no use. The house was full in no time.

"It was then I decided no one had ever really put his mind to this chore," said Hank. "This time we bought a wooded mountain on a wild and lonely road. The telephone listed under my name is in a doghouse, where nobody can hear it ring. The one we use is unlisted."

Hank claimed he artfully concealed the roadway leading up to his house, and constructed a false one leading in the other direction.

"The false driveway," he said, "is fixed so that anyone trying it goes off sideways down a cliff—not steep enough to cause fatalities, but guaranteed to take a car 12 hours to get out.

Telephone Mile Away

"The walk to the nearest telephone is one mile, and it is impossible to get out of the area without struggling for 100 yards in any direction through poison ivy. Beyond that the path is sown with rattlesnakes and silent, deadly little copperheads.

"I am fair about it. There are warning signs—but the type of people I know isn't easily intimidated."

But Paynter also has fixed up some barriers for any uninvited guest who accidentally wanders up the right driveway!

"Halfway up there are two electrified barbed wire fenses and gates (locked), the first charged with 110 volts, the second with 11,000 volts. But the amperage is low enough so that the average healthy person survives—if he can let go."

Along the driveway, he said there also are booby-trapped benches that go boom if anybody sits on them.

Other Surprises In Store

Should any guest be hardy enough to win through to the house itself, Paynter said he had other surprises in store—such as hidden phonographs in the bedroom that give the sound effects of mice arguing and a drunk chopping up a grand piano. And a light switch connected to a trap full of wasps!

"If the guest opens the door to run away from the wasps," Paynter mused, "he falls 12 feet into a briar patch surrounded by netting which encloses 500 white mice and 200 white rabbits—all hopping in the dark."

What is the result of all this?

"It is five years now since we have had an uninvited overnight guest," said Hank, and "12 years since a guest has stayed more than one night uninvited. Why don't you come up and see for yourself, old pal?"

Not me! I'm starting my vacation tomorrow—but I think I'll go to a nice quiet beach and stay at a hotel.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDESEN, M.D.

Kidneys' Job

NORMALLY, about one-fourth of the total blood flows through the kidney each minute. At the end of a day this hard-working organ has purified some 800 gallons of blood, filtering out and excreting the waste products of the body's complicated chemical processes.

These wastes are poisonous and if the kidney fails at its task they pile up in the blood stream to poison the whole body, sometimes fatally. Failure of the kidney action may result from some disturbance of the circulation through the kidney. It may also occur because the flow of urine is blocked or as a result of some infection of the kidney.

The chief cause of blocking of the flow of the urine in men is enlargement of the prostate gland with resultant narrowing of the outlet from the bladder. In women, blocking may result from scar tissue formation around the neck of tthe bladder which, in turn, is produced by previous inflammation in the pelvic reproductive organs. In children, the obstruction or blocking of the flow of the urine is usually due to some abnormal condition present at the time of birth.

Any blocking of the flow of the urine sooner or later damages the kidney tissue because of back pressure. Furthermore, in such instances, infection is likely to occur.

Change In Circulation

Any change in the general circulation may alter the circulation through the kidney. Thus kidney circulation is lessened because of low blood pressure which may be produced by shock. The circulation through the kidney may be slowed down when there is loss of blood due to severe hemorrhage. The loss in fluid from the body which occurs in fever, vomiting or diarrhea, also affects the kidney action. Failure of the heart to keep up the circulation is another cause of altered circulation of the blood in the kidneys.

According to Drs. Stanley E. Bradley and Donald L. Anderson of Boston university, in many cases, the use of drugs to stimulate kidney action and the lessening of fluid intake are not satisfactory form of treatment.

Instead, they reply particularly on the use of fluids and suggest that about two quarts of fluids be given by mouth and one quart by injection into a vein in each 24 hours. The mixture may be of salt solution and glucose, a sugar solution. Too much salt in the diet should not be allowed.

In addition to the giving of fluids, an effort should be made to clear up any infection present in the urinary tract and also to relieve the blocking of the urine flow if possible. In some cases, this may require operative procedures.

Nothing better illustrates the marvelous construction of the human body than the kidney's elaborate filtration plant. It is one which man has never equalled for economy and efficiency in any of his most ingenious inventions. Recently when an eminent physician succeeded in constructing the world's first artificial kidney he devised amachine not only many times larger than the kidney but one larger even than the entire human body to do the work of this one relatively small, but all-important, organ.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

E. O.: What can I do to improve my circulation?

Answer: To improve your circulation, you should observe the following measures: exercise moderately in the outdoors daily; get plenty of fresh air and sunshine, as well as rest and sleep; eat a well-balanced diet containing an abundance of vegetables and fruit, wholegrains cereals, and milk, with meat and eggs in moderate amounts. You should take from four to six glassfuls in water daily.

Hospital Auxiliary Discusses Ball Game

When the Junior auxiliary of the Women's board of Marion City hospital met Thursday evening in the home of Miss Ann Mapes of 483 Courtland terrace, further discussion was held on the benefit baseball game which has been planned for Sept. 10. The Marion Cubs and Muncie Ohio State Packers will play at Lincoln park on that date.

At next meeting of the junior group, an auction of baked goods will be held, and sewing for the hospital will be done. Mrs. H. A. Petrich will be hostess for the meeting in her home at 523 Forest street; and Mrs. John Roberts will be assistant hostess.

HIROSHIMA MARKS A-BOMB DAY. An incongruous touch to the three-day observance of the anniversary of A-Bomb day in Hiroshima is added by these Jap children and dancers. Dressed in colorful costumes, some of the paraders looked as though they were taking part in a celebration instead of solemn pleas for peace among the nations of the world.

The first coffee-house was opened in England in St. Michael's Alley, Cornhill, England, by Pasqua Rosee, a Greek.

BALANCE IN STEEL IS STILL IN DISTANCE

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Aug. 25 — The "hoped-for supply-demand balance in steel is still some distance away," the magazine Steel reported today.

Production curtailments in Ohio plants and elsewhere because of steel shortages are typical of the tight supply situation, said Steel, and "the general stringency which has plagued consuming industry for months past persists, with no substantial early easing in prospect."

Steel also said that "most trade authorities are of the opinion that it is highly unlikely anything approaching balance between supply and demand for sheets and strip is likely to be experienced much before mid-1948."

The "recently announced new schedule of steel prices seems to be taking hold firmly," but the scrap market is "troublesome," said the trade journal, as "scrap prices continue on the easy side and steel-works grades have been marked down slightly from a week ago."

Steelmakers "do not appear as unusually concerned," Steel commented, "on the federal trade commission's action citing the steel industry on charges of price fixing and monopolistic practices," as they are "confident they can substantiate the legality and economic practicality of the basing point pricing system."

The national index of steel-making eased down to 93 per cent of rated capacity, off one point for the second consecutive week.

Social Affairs

A PICNIC, with husbands and escorts of the members as guests, closed the summer activities for Alpha chapter, Gradale sorority. Twenty couples were present for the affair, held Saturday night at the Prospect roadside park. A potluck supper was served and the evening was spent socially. Guests from out of town were Miss Peggy Dunnett of Charleston, W. Va., and Mrs. and Mrs. Charles Beaver of Lorain.

Arrangements were in charge of the summer activities committee composed of Mrs. Carl Werley Jr., Chairman, Mrs. Carroll Elsey, Miss Elizabeth Ballenger and Miss Viola Maggret.

To open the fall and winter season the club will hold a dinner meeting, Sept. 3 at 6:30 p. m. in the women's club rooms at the Y.M.C.A. Reservations are to be made by Tuesday. A short musical program will be presented in charge of the program committee.

A meeting of the D'accord Cootiette Club No. 269 was held Thurusday at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Briner of 249 Uhler avenue. Eleven members were present and three memberships were received. Lunch was served by the hostess. The next meeting, on Aug. 28, will be in the Post club rooms at 130 Court street.

Mrs. Inez Miller entertained the Starlight club with a noon luncheon when members visited her home in Columbus Aug. 20. Highlighting the afternoon's entertainment was the playing of several recordings which were made by members in 1942 when Mrs. Bernard Miller of Delaware was hostess.

Bridge was played with high honors going to Mrs. Harry Miller, second, Mrs. Myron Gibson and low, Mrs. Flora Hoffman. Floating award was received by Mrs. Thomas Greenland.

Guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Harry Miller, Mrs. Kenneth Miller, Mrs. Bernard Miller, Mrs. Arthur Miller, Larry, Ronnie, Diane and Courtney Miller.

Attending from Marion were Mrs. Alma Ebert, Mrs. Oliva Reinwald, Mrs. Merle Greenland, Mrs. Blanche Dutt, Mrs. Evaninne Scheitler, Mrs. Fern Wilson, Mrs. Flora Hoffman and Mrs. Connie Gibson. Mrs. Lowell Bader of Edison will be hostess for the next meeting.

Mrs. Raymond C. Wade of Newark is announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Martha, and Thomas J. Dunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Dunn of 447 Oak street.

Miss Wade is a graduate of St. Francis de Sales High school in Newark and of St. Mary of the Springs college in Columbus. At present, she is assistant dietitian at Newark hospital. Her fiance was graduated from St. Mary High school here, and is now attending Ohio State university. He served three years in the Army with the 96th Division. The wedding will be an event of Sept. 20 in St. Francis de Sales Catholic church.

A group of members of the F. C. club and the N.O.C. club attended the Ruth Lyons' Morning Matinee broadcast over Station WLW in Cincinnati Tuesday morning. They spent the afternoon at Coney Island and rode the Island Queen down the Ohio river. The group left here Monday night.

Attending from the F. C. club were Mrs. Mary Gilmore, Mrs. Ruth Whetro, Mrs. Alberta Brothers, Mrs. Juanita Hatch and Mrs. Eileen Alexander, and from the N. O. C. club were Mrs. Virginia Carrol, Mrs. Josie Bevis, Mrs. Donna Rowland, Mrs. Rose Alice Rowland, Mrs. Mary Emerson, Mrs. Dorothy Haubert, Mrs. Marilyn Reinwald, Mrs. Cora Bill and Mrs. Virginia Smith.

MRS. PAUL E. DUFFEY

Duffey, Mountz Vows Spoken In Sunday Wedding

MR. AND MRS. G. W. MOUNTZ of 249 Madison avenue are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Virginia Mae, to Paul E. Duffey, son of Mrs. Mildred Duffey of Olney avenue. The ceremony was read Sunday at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon by Rev. J. B. Holloway, pastor of Trinity Baptist church, at the parsonage on South State street.

The bride chose for her wedding a blue silk dress with which she combined black accessories. Her corsage was a single white orchid. Mrs. Don W. Phillians of Lansing, Mich., the bride's only attendant, was attired in a brown dress with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Don W. Phillians served as best man.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Mountz chose a blue jersey dress with white accessories. Mrs. Duffey was costumed in a pink linen suit with black accessories.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the couple's newly-furnished apartment at 244½ Madison avenue. The bride's table was decorated in her chosen colors of blue and white. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Lewis Wills, Mrs. P. H. Meinhart, Mrs. Leroy Schneider, and Misses Jeanne, Glennalou and Rachel Mountz, sisters of the bride.

When the couple left on a trip through Michigan and Canada, Mrs. Duffey was wearing a red wool bolero suit with black accessories.

Mrs. Duffey was graduated from Harding High school and is employed as color artist at Stein's Photo Studio. Mr. Duffey, also a graduate of Harding High school, served in the Navy Seabees over two and a half years and is employed in the engineering department of the Ohio Associated Telephone Co.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Eva Shaffer of Huron, O., Mrs. Wesley Miller of Waldo, both grandmothers of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Meinhart of Akron, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Cook and son Charles of Huron, Mrs. Floyd Duffey of Tiffin, Rev. and Mrs. John Duffey and children, Phyllis, Gordan and Judy of Wilmington, Mr. and Mrs. Denver Duffey and daughter, Firth, of Toledo, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bailey of Toledo, and Mr. and Mrs. George Landis of Columbus, and Mr. and Mrs. John Dean and son of New Bloomington. Mrs. Flora Duffey of Marion, grandmother of the bridegroom, was also present.

Club Federation Picnic To Be Held At Home Sept. 9

PREPARATIONS are underway by members of the federated clubs in Marion and surrounding communities for the annual picnic to be held Tuesday, Sept. 9, at the Federation Home. The picnic was originally scheduled for Sept. 10 but was changed due to the fact that the Junior Auxiliary to the Women's Board of the Marion City hospital is sponsoring a benefit baseball game that night.

Plans for the picnic were made when the committee in charge, which is made up of a representative from each club, met Saturday afternoon at the Federation Home. Mrs. Rayl B. Conyers is serving as general chairman of the picnic committee, with Miss Mary Kathrine Smith as assistant chairman.

The picnic is scheduled to begin at 5:30 p. m., and is for all federated club members and their husbands. Coffee will be furnished and coca-cola and ice cream will be sold.

A highlight of the evening's activities will be an auction sale of baked goods. For the sale, each club is to furnish one cake, one pie, one pan of rolls and cookies.

Sub-committee chairmen serving under Mrs. Conyers are: Mrs. Fillmore Young, finance, Miss Smith, reservations, Miss Helen Bowe, refreshments, Miss Edna Dutton, publicity, and Mrs. E. W. Warwick, social.

Representatives of the various clubs who will inform their respective clubs of the plans are: Mrs. G. E. Frank, Advance; Mrs. B. H. Gast, All Arts, Mrs. O. J. Ricker, Altrurian; Mrs. George Planck, Art; Miss Pauline Ruhl, Atheneum; Mrs. E. L. Weimer, Ben Hur; Mrs. John Artopoeus, Beta Study; Mrs. Robert Pennisten, Clionian; Mrs. Bertram Goodman, Council for Jewish Women; Mrs. Fillmore Young, Current Topic; Mrs. E. W. Warwick, Delphian; Miss Mary Katherine Smith, El Dorado; Mrs. Rolland Augensteln, Fortnightly; Mrs. W. O. Nippert, House and Garden; Mrs. Lois Thomas, Lecture Recital; Miss Helen Bowe, Le Mecure; Mrs. Clark Fouts, Literary Arts; Mrs. A. L. Loeb, Literature Study; Miss Ruth Edwards, Quest; Mrs. Dwight Shelton, Research; Mrs. C. G. Smith, Round Table; Mrs. C. Z. Zachman, Searchlight; Mrs. Claire Keller, Searchlight Literary; Mrs. O. V. Roby, Sesame; Mrs. Walter Hane, Seventh District Nurses; Mrs. E. W. Imbody, Sorosis; Mrs. Frank Fields, Three Arts; Miss Edna Dutton, Tuesday Study; Mrs. Edgar Barnhart, Women's Century, and Mrs. Carl Sawyer, Women's.

Weddings

The marriage of Miss Estella Myers of 614 Mt. Vernon avenue, daughter of the late Jacob and Elizabeth Myers, to Jack Lloyd of Cleveland, took place Friday afternoon at the home of the bride. Rev. M. E. Hollensen, pastor of Emanuel Lutheran church, read the single ring ceremony at 4:30 o'clock. Bouquets of flowers decorated the rooms.

Attending the couple were Miss Louretta Gilmore of Dayton, and Paul Whitenack of Marion, cousin of the bride.

The bride chose for her wedding a dark blue suit with which she wore a pink blouse and dark blue accessories. For something "old," she wore an Italian cameo loaned to her by a friend, Mrs. Clara Halstead of Cleveland, and she carried a handkerchief which had been given to her mother by Mrs. Warren G. Harding. Her flowers were an orchid corsage. Miss Gilmore was attired in a brown suit with matching accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Wanda McMahan of Marion, at the piano, played "The Lord's Prayer," Malotte, and during the ceremony, "I Love You Truly," Bond, and "Always," Berlin. She also used the traditional wedding marches.

A 6:30 o'clock dinner at Hotel Harding followed the ceremony for the bridal party and two other guests who also attended the ceremony, Cleo Whitenack, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. B. B. Gallagher, both of Marion. A bouquet of flowers centered the table. After an extended trip into Canada, the couple will reside in Cleveland.

Mrs. Lloyd has been teacher of the sixth grade at Oakland Heights school for a number of years. Mr. Lloyd is an accountant in Cleveland.

DEFENSE MINISTER SEIZES ECUADOR

By The Associated Press

QUITO, ECUADOR, Aug. 25—Col. Carlos Mancheno, erstwhile minister of defense, was self-proclaimed ruler of Ecuador today after the bloodless overthrow and exile of President Jose Maria Velasco Ibarra.

The colonel yesterday announced that Velasco Ibarra had resigned, called upon the army for support and issued a decree by which he assumed "the function of executive power as in charge of the presidency of the republic." He told reporters he would summon all political parties to advise him in choice of a cabinet.

Twelve hours after his reported resignation, Velasco Ibarra and his Argentine-born wife, Mrs. Corina Parral de Velasco Ibarra, flew to Cali, Colombia, where the Colombian government granted them asylum.

His downfall was believed to have stemmed from his effort to oust Mancheno from his cabinet, in which the colonel had served since a revolution established the Velasco Ibarra administration in mid-1944.

MARRIED AT BUCYRUS

BUCYRUS, Aug. 25 —A ceremony in First Baptist church Friday morning united Miss Maxine Marie Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. Williams, and Waldo Shuler Rowland, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Rowland. The Rev. James H. Thomas read the double ring ceremony. Miss Margaret Jane Williams, was the only bridal attendant. Harold Eugene Williams attended Mr. Rowland as best man and William Rowland was usher.

REPORTS $140 THEFT

GALION, Aug. 25 — Kenneth McClenathan of Galion reported that someone entered his home between one and 6 a. m., Sunday, and took $149 which was in a pair of trousers in the front bedroom of his home. He found the trousers, minus the money, in the rear yard of his home Sunday morning. He told neighbors that entrance was made to the home by removing a latch from a screen door of the home.

Legion Chief Says Greek Issue Could Bring War Soon

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 25—National Commander Paul N. Griffith, sounding a serious warning amid the festive preparations for the American Legion's 29th annual convention opening Thursday, said that "the critical situation which has developed in Greece within the past few hours • • • could spread into world conflagration on a moment's notice."

Griffith called a news conference yesterday after his arrival from Washington, D. C., where he said he had talked to President Truman. Asked by a reporter if he favored sending troops abroad to support the Truman doctrine, the Legion commander replied:

"I don't see how you can enforce anything without using police. If it takes troops we should send troops.

"If and when Greece is invaded there's no use to wait like we waited before. If there is no other way to stop them but to send troops, then we should send troops."

FOOTBALL CASUALTY

GALION, Aug. 25 — Kenneth Shroll, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pry suffered a broken collarbone, during first football practice of the season. A left tackle prospect of the Galion High school eleven, Kenneth was treated at City hospital, and later released.

Mrs. Enid Metzger, Galion Resident, Dies

Special to The Star

GALION, O., Aug. 25—Mrs. Enid Doris Metzger, 30, of 465 Wine street died in Galion City hospital at 10:50 p. m. Sunday. Cause of death is not known and an autopsy is to be performed tonight. She had been ill since Wednesday.

She was born Jan. 12, 1917 at Egeland, N. D. and was married to Paul F. Metzger March 27, 1943. She was a member of the First Presbyterian church. Surviving with her husband is one son Paul Lewis, and five brothers and sisters, Delbert Swank of Tiffin, Mrs. Joel Shupp, Sheldon Swank, Miss Violet Swank and Miss Anna Mae Swank, all of Galion.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Volk Funeral home with Rev. Norman Riedesel officiating. Burial will be in Fairview cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 3 p. m. Tuesday.

TAFT-HARTLEY LAW CALLED "TOO WEAK"

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 — Chairman Hartley (R-NJ) of the house labor committee said today the Taft-Hartley act "does not have enough teeth in it to give the public real protection against nationwide strikes."

The co-author of the new labor measure said he will try to have congress remedy the situation next year.

Hartley told reporters the measure of necessity was a compromise document, adding its machinery to stop strikes "does not go far enough."

Under the act the government is authorized to obtain court injunctions against nationwide strikes endangering health and safety.

"At the very best," Hartley said, "this only stalls a strike off for 85 days. There may be some means of extending the injunctions for additional 85-day periods but even this is doubtful."

The labor committee head said he plans to press for enactment of the monopolistic strike section of the original Hartley bill.

This provision failed to win senate approval and was discarded from the final draft of the act, which became law over President Truman's veto.

It defined as a monopolistic strike a walkout resulting from any conspiracy, collusion or concerted plan of action between employes of competing employers" where the employes are not represented by the same union.

Miss Truman Rests After Concert Debut

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD, Aug 25—Singer Margaret Truman was relaxing today after a strenuous week of rehearsals and the climax Saturday night when she stood, poised and confident, before an audience of 15,000 in Hollywood bowl and made her concert debut.

Miss Truman, who drew the second largest crowd of the bowl season, was given an ovation at the conclusion of her program and sang two encores.

The President and Mrs Truman did not hear their daughter as the program was not broadcast

Bucyrus' Porky Cold Ham Now; He Will Probably Be Colder

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, Aug. 25—The iceman cameth for Porky today—but swine specialists at Ohio state fair said he came too late.

Porky is officially known as Marcus Charmer and Porky is a 1,000-pound hog citizen who last year took grand champion honors at the fair although he was one-year-old.

The heat is playing hob with the roly-poly occupant of the fair's pig pens and Porky is a heat victim.

Owner Walter Michael of Bucyrus, obviously worried about the porker, brought in hundreds of pounds of ice and packed Porky in great masses of it.

Michael now has cold ham on rye straw, but the boys who know their hogs best say Porky will go for grease and tallow, not as a champion.

Several of the fair's pigs are in much the same shape as Porky, and the pig tent looks like a combination ice house and hospital.

Army, Navy Speedsters Booked at Air Races

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Aug 25—Pilots of two jet planes that have ripped the air at some 10 miles a minute will appear at the National air races here, officials announced today.

One, a U S. Navy flier, is Commander Turner F Caldwell Jr, who set a new world's speed record of 640 7 miles per hour at Muroc, Calif., last week, and the other is Col, Albert Boyd of the U S Air Force.

Boyd's record of 623 8 miles an hour stood up until Caldwell made his dash. He will fly that same Lockheed P-80-R shooting star jet fighter used in his run last June.

Grand Jury To Probe Ohio Woman's Slaying

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Aug 25—Hamilton County Prosecutor Carson Hoy today ordered a special session of the grand jury to investigate the death of Mrs Drucille Stroube, wealthy Cincinnati matron, who was found shot to death in her home Aug 1.

Eleven persons, including Mrs Stroube's husband, Harlan Stroube, president of the Welzbach Sales Co; her son, sister and brother-in-law have been ordered to appear before the grand jury tomorrow, Hoy said.

STORM

70 miles per hour, centered on Galveston at 4 45 p m yesterday and on Texas City a short time later, causing considerable property damage of minor nature. Residence and store windows were smashed, homes were unroofed, small boats were battered or set adrift, signs were blown down, communication lines suffered and both cities temporarily went without power.

Power Restored

Not until late last night were power circuits generally restored in Galveston.

Joseph M. Tate, however, lost his life by electrocution in Galveston when he came in contact with a fallen power line.

Three men were missing and feared lost. The Forst Point life boat station was asked to make a check for the three, crew of the 16-foot snapper boat Linda K which had sailed from this island port Friday.

Thousands of persons found refuge from the storm in Red Cross-sponsored shelter, five public school buildings and the municipal auditorium.

Storm Creeps Up

The storm slipped up on Galveston after hovering off the Texas coast for 24 hours.

The angry gulf thundered against the sea wall and so thick was the wind spray over the rough muddy, waves the walls could hardly be seen.

Texas City, where 500 persons were blown to bits or burned to death in a ship explosion last April, suffered no extensive damage.

The wind there reached 70 miles an hour, two miles faster than at Galveston, and a number of boats were pounded to bits against the seawalls.

American Countries Set Joint Defense

By The Associated Press

QUITANDINHA, Brazil, Aug. 25 — A big hurdle at the inter-American defense conference was believed cleared today with Argentine agreement that all American nations might act to stop an attack of any one upon another.

The 20-nation conference has been sitting since Aug 15 to draw up a treaty of mutual defense for the Western Hemisphere. Informed sources said last night two-thirds of the treaty had been agreed upon.

KNICKLES, MERCHANT LEAD JUNIOR LEAGUE

Top Standings as Baseball Loop Enters Last Lap.

The City Junior Baseball league is going into its last lap this week with Knickles' team leading the 14-16 year old age group and the Merchant teams leading the 11-13 year olders.

One of the highlights of the league play was an intra-league All-Star tilt Sunday in which the No. 11 team hammered out a 9-4 victory over the No. 2 squad. Don Blinn, assistant director of the leagues, has a team of All-Stars from the 14-16 year old group that he would like to play against an out of the city team of the same age.

Current batting leaders in the 14-16 year old age group are Estes with 20 hits in 29 times at bat for .690, Stoffer with 12 hits in 19 times up for .632, Seiter with 16 hits in 29 times for .552, Layman with 17 in 31 trips, and Thatcher with 12 hits in 22 times up for .545.

The present standings are:

FORD JOINS PARADE OF CAR PRICE HIKERS

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Aug. 25—The Ford Motor Company, which several months ago startled the automotive world by cutting its car prices, today was the last of the motor car industry's "big three" to announce price rises, ranging from $20 to $97 on most of its passenger car and truck models.

The price boost, averaging 4.2 per cent, followed similar moves by Chrysler and General Motors corporations and such smaller producers as Kaiser-Frazer, Nash, Hudson and Packard.

"This action," said Company President Henry Ford II, "has been dictated by the simple necessity of keeping Ford Motor Company on a sound economic basis."

Ford said that price reductions from $15 to $50 on passenger cars last Jan. 15 "had the effect of retarding the upward movement of prices" but since then "slowly but steadily . . . the cost of things we buy to make our product has risen."

"We have held to this lowered price line on . . . . cars for seven months and even now, with these increases, we still offer the lowest priced six-cylinder tudor sedan and six-cylinder three-passenger coupe," Ford's announcement said.

"But like any other company, we need a profit to insure our continuation as a sound unit in the national economy and to provide a reasonable degree of security for our employes," he added.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. You don't have to starve yourself, eat sensibly per instructions on bottle. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

YUGOSLAV MOB KILLS 2 CHURCH PRELATES

By The Associated Press

TRIESTE, Aug. 25 — An Italian news agency dispatch from Trieste today said a mob in the Yugoslav zone of Venezia—Giulia inflicted grave injuries yesterday on a Vatican prelate sent to confirm children in the area, and killed a local priest who tried to defend him.

The agency, ANSA, said the prelate, Msgr. Giacomo Ukmar, was taken to a Fiume hospital suffering from a skull fracture and serious knife wounds in the region of the kidneys. It said Rev. Miro Buleisch tried to guard Msgr. Ukmar and was cut so seriously he died almost immediately.

The attack was at Lanische, in that part of the Istrian peninsula known as Zone B, occupied by Premier Marshal Tito's forces. ANSA said the Vatican sent Msgr. Ukmar, a native of Trieste, to the area after hostile manifestations prevented Msgr. Antonio Santin, bishop of Trieste and Capodistria, from conducting confirmations.

$500 Fire Caused By Smoking in Bed

Firemen were called to extinguish a house fire and an automobile fire Sunday.

Estimated damage of $500 resulted from a fire at the home of Elmer Walker at 224 Senate street, firemen receiving the call at 2:48 p. m. Walker had been smoking in bed and the bed clothing caught fire, spreading through the interior of the home, firemen said.

A defective muffler set fire to the floor boards of a car owned by Mary Dean of 321 North Main street at the intersection of Orchard street and Holmes place yesterday at about 5 p. m. A loss estimated at $5 was sustained.

Schlairet Softball Team Beats Harpster

The Schlairet Transfer softball team walloped their kid brothers 23-2 at Harpster yesterday.

Although it wasn't a cut and dried family affair several of the Schlairet players had younger brothers on the Harpster Ex-Hi squad.

The Marionites got off to a flying start in the first with 10 runs and then finished strong after being held down for the next three innings.

The game made the Schlairet softball record for the year 22 wins against four losses. The record has been made in Commercial league, night league, and independent play.

Next Sunday the Transfer crew will again turn to baseball for their season's wind-up traveling to Lorain for a game against Thew Shovel.

LIVESTOCK JUDGING BEGINS AT OHIO FAIR

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 25 — Judging in the livestock divisions got under way today at the 93rd Ohio State fair as officials of the exposition sought ways to protect the animals from the scorching heat.

Temperatures in the 90's failed to daunt enthusiasm of big crowds that thronged the grounds yesterday but the attendance fell several thousand short of the record 71,399 set a year ago.

The weatherman forecast another scrocher today and this was expected to keep the attendance from setting any records.

The heat killed two entries in the swine department yesterday and made several others ill. Several tons of ice were rushed to barns and tents sheltering animals. Frank C. Smith, member of the state board of agriculture, had a large hay drier set up to blow air over animals in one building.

Judging also was scheduled today for events of the Future Farmers of America and the 4-H clubs.

Harness horse races get under way at 1:30 p. m. and continue each day this week. The high spot of the racing program will be the Buckeye Derby tomorrow with a purse of $2,000.

Special events continue each day of the exposition, featuring musical programs, community singing and band concerts.

Thursday will be Governor's day with Gov. Thomas J. Herbert spending the day on the grounds. He will attend several events, including the afternoon racing and will be honored at a reception and band concert at 8 p. m. in the music hall.

Women and children were offered free attendance today.

Fair manager Edwin J. Bath acted to prevent price gouging by requiring concessionaires to comply with a clause in their contracts calling for the posting of prices to be paid for each article.

DELAY SCHOOL OPENING

MT. GILEAD, Aug. 25—Opening of school at Mt. Gilead has been postponed until Sept. 8. It was announced this week by D. L. Musselman, superintendent of schools. School had originally been scheduled to start on Tuesday, Sept. 2. Mr. Musselman stated that the postponement was due to the laying of a new asphalt floor in the hallways and decorating work.

Blame Juveniles For 3 Bucyrus Burglaries

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Aug. 25—Juveniles are believed responsible for three minor breaking and entering cases Friday night. Places entered were a garage belonging to Clifford Sexton, West Perry street, where a gallon of seal for cracks and a bundle of shingles were taken; the Margaret Faulkner house at 316 West Galen street where a chair and some dishes were reported missing, and the Lions playground canteen, where the vandals stole candy and ice cream.

Indians Climb To Half Game Out of 4th As Joe Gordon Hits 24th Homer for Year

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Aug. 25—Joe (Flash) Gordon's home run bat had the Cleveland Indians only a half-game out of fourth place today in the American league race—an unfamiliar spot for the Tribe in recent weeks.

And the club had Joe himself one homer behind the current leader, Ted Williams, who sports 25. He got his 24th round tripper yesterday in the sixth inning of the second game of a doubleheader with the Boston Red Sox.

Beaten 11-2 in the opener, the Indians scored their runs on Joe's looper into the left field stands, and the 2-1 win gave the Tribe a full game boost in the league standings as fourth place Philadelphia dropped a double bill to the Detroit Tigers.

In Cleveland's winning inning in the second game, Ken Keltner had dropped a single into right to start off, and the fans begged Gordon for a homer. He tried to oblige with a blast into the upper stands that curved foul, then straightened out the next offering.

Burbrink Apparently Is Sure Bet To Win OSL Batting Crown

Cub Manager Nelson Burbrink seems a "shoo in" for Ohio State league batting honors this season, according to the latest figures released by the Howe News bureau.

The heavy-hitting local skipper booted his average upstairs three more points to a 391 mark with his nearest competitor, Jack Maisch of Lima, batting 361. Burbrink leads in runs batted in with 92 and in runs scored with 89.

Outfielder Dwight Maxhimer of Marion is leading the home run department with 10.

The Cubs pace the league in fielding with a team average of 947 and are second in team hitting with 269, a figure surpassed only by the Muncie club, batting 276 as a team.

Record Entry List Made In Hardin Coondog Trials

By International News Service

KENTON, O., Aug. 23 — A world record entry list of 439 dogs was announced today for the 20th annual running of the National Leafy Oak coonhound field trials inaugurated in 1927 by the late "Colonel" Henry J. Pfeiffer.

Pfeiffer, a former member of the state conservation department and a coondog lover, started the Leafy Oak trials as a means of putting the lowly coonhound in the blue blood class of American dogdom.

Elimination heats begin Sunday and continue through Labor Day, with a possibility of the champion-naming finals being run Tuesday, Sept. 2, because of the record entry list.

The former entry record was set last year when 250 dogs competed.

This year's trials will be staged on the Walton farm two miles east of Mt. Victory. Ralph Woodard is manager of the event.

PLAYS THAT COUNT

By FRANK ECK
AP Sports Writer

Manager Billy Southworth of the Boston Braves goes back to his days as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals to pick out the greatest play he ever saw.

"It was the catch Terry Moore made against the Yankees in the 1942 World Series in Yankee Stadium," says Southworth. "There were two out in the sixth inning of the third game with Roy Cullenbine on first and Joe DiMaggio up.

SOUTHWORTH
Braves

"Joe laced into Ernie White's second pitch and drive it 350 feet. Moore caught it on the dead run. We won the game, 2-0.

"The blow looked like it would have gone for three bases, maybe more. Terry cut in back of Stan Musial, who was playing left field, and it was the greatest catch I ever saw."

That was the game in which the Cardinal outfielders made three circus catches in succession. To start the seventh inning Joe Gordon hit a ball 380 feet and Musial made the catch in left field. Enos Slaughter, playing right field, then pulled down a 350-drive off the bat of Charley Keller.

The Cardinals won the Series, four game to one.

New Bleachers, Season Ticket Plan, Stadium Improvement Included in Activities.

A "Football Betterment Program" for Marion this fall was made public today by its sponsors, the Harding High School Athletic association and the Marion Boosters club.

Substantial improvements in facilities for high school football games have been arranged jointly by these two groups. Improvement work is already under way at Harding stadium.

Both the Athletic association and the Boosters club emphasized today they are counting on financial and moral support from the public to back up the program they have arranged for this fall with an eye toward stimulating public interest in Harding's six home football games. The opening game of the season will be played Friday night, Sept. 12 at Harding stadium.

The many-sided program for bigger and better football facilities this year includes:

▶1—Construction of 1,692 bleacher seats—safe seats made of tubular steel supports—on the east side of the football field, facing the stadium. These will assure good, substantial seats for everyone.

▶2—Introduction of a plan to offer all of the concrete seats to the public and students on a season ticket, reserved seat basis. If adults buy season tickets for the six home games for $5, they get the same seats at each game. The first sale of tickets is scheduled for Wednesday night, Sept. 3, when a special Harding intra-squad game will be played at the stadium, free of charge. At the time a season ticket is purchased, the buyer will be given the opportunity to make a donation toward paying the cost of the new bleachers.

▶3—Improvement of stadium facilities by the addition of new equipment, officials' and coaches' rooms.

Acquisition of the new bleachers, the cost of which is estimated at $10,000, was possible by a loan of $8,000, made to the association by the Boosters club, an organization of businessmen seeking to promote increased public support of school athletics.

Fund Raising Program

The $2,000 needed to complete payment on the bleachers is to be raised through the sale of season tickets on a reserved seat basis and through private donations. Association officials hope this sum can be raised this season.

All seats in the permanent concrete grandstand on the west side of Harding stadium will be reserved this year. This marks the first time that reserved seats have been sold at the stadium. Seating capacity of this permanent stand is 2,076, allowing a space of 18 inches a person.

According to plans of the Boosters club, these reserved tickets may be purchased by mail orders or direct from club salesmen. An order blank will appear in future issues of The Star for mail orders.

A total of 1,686 of the seats in the permanent concrete stand will be reserved for adults. The remaining 390 are to be reserved for Harding students at a price for the season of $2.75.

Sales for Each Game

Reserved seat tickets available following the sale of season tickets will go on sale at the gate on the night of each game. Price for these individual game reserved seats will be $1 for adults and 55 cents for students from the first to the twelfth grades.

All seats in the new bleachers, which will be located on the east side of the stadium, will be sold on a general admission basis for each game. Price of these tickets will be 75 cents for adults and 40 cents for students.

The Boosters club's loan of $8,000 will be amortized over a five-year period, according to A. C. May, principal of Harding High school. This loan will be paid off at an interest rate of 3 per cent through the Harding High school athletic fund supplemented by private donations.

The money collected from ticket sales and donations will be first applied to the $2,000 yet to be paid on the bleachers, according to Mr. May.

Size of New Bleachers

The new bleachers will be 155 feet long and 18 rows high. They will extend between the two 22-yard lines with the center exactly on the 50 yard line.

Most of the bleacher seats were those used at the Marion County fairgrounds race track this year for the Little Grand Circuit harness meeting. However, additional bleachers of the same type have been secured to increase the seating capacity to 1,692.

Harding officials plan to still further increase the stadium capacity by adding older-style, wooden bleachers, used at the stadium for the past several years, to each end of the new bleachers. It is expected that enough of these older bleacher seats will be added to bring the total stadium capacity to over 4,000.

The new bleachers are made of welded tubular steel units. The seats themselves, however, will be wooden planks.

Will Be Moveable

The bleachers are semi-permanent in that they can be moved at any time. This feature is expected to be of considerable value if future plans of local athletic officials to construct another permanent concrete stand on the east side of Harding stadium materialize. In such an event, the new bleachers probably will be moved to the north end of the stadium, thus forming a partial horseshoe seating arrangement.

Crushed stone has been used as the foundation material for the risers of the new bleachers in view of the fact that close-to-the-surface bedrock makes impracticable the pouring of concrete footers. Creosoted blocks are being used as bases for the risers.

SPORTS LAUGHS

The late John McGraw was farfamed for his passion for alert baseball by his teams.

McGraw was traveling through the south one year with his wife when his car hit a cow crossing the road and killed the animal.

McGraw's chauffeur was horrified. He jumped from the car, looked at the dead cow and said: "Gee, Mr. McGraw, I'm sorry. I didn't see the cow."

McGraw snapped back: "Forget it. The cow should have had its head up anyway."

Floor and wall tiles are shaped under a pressure of about 2,000 pounds to the square inch before being fired.

Reds Stage 9-Run Scoring Spree in 10th Inning To Drop Phils, 12-3; Lose Second

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25—Habitues of Shibe park, who have become hardened to disappointment as they follow the fortunes of the tail end Philadelphia Phils this season, rehashed a new heartbreaker today.

The Cincinnati Reds yesterday bumbled the Phils in the first game of a doubleheader, 12-3—by scoring nine runs in the top of the tenth inning on eight hits, two passes and two errors.

The local faithful got little consolation from the Phils' 8-6 triumph in the nightcap, called after six and a half innings in compliance with Pennsylvania's Sunday curfew.

Ten Redlegs went to bat in that big inning before the Phils succeeded in making a putout. Babe Young and Ray Lamanno each got two hits during the rally. Lamanno doubled home the first run and chased in the final two with a single.

Homers featured the second game.

Schoolboy Rowe, the winning pitcher, hit his second, Andy Seminick his 10th and Al Lakeman his sixth for the Phils, while Grady Hatton clouted No. 15 for the Reds.

Lima, Toledo Remain Atop Softball Heap

By The Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, O., Aug. 25—Toledo and Lima rode atop the men's state softball tournament today after barging through three rounds of torrid play without a setback.

The unbeaten teams are scheduled to clash today in an 8 p. m. feature, after winners of the afternoon's two quarterfinal contests meet an hour earlier.

Survivors besides the two unbeaten teams are Cambridge, Ashland, Columbus and Youngstown, all topped once in the double elimination classic.

Toledo dropped Ashland, 3-1, yesterday to hold to the pace with Lima, victor over Youngstown, 4-2.

Dodgers Keep 6-Game Lead

By The Associated Press

It was the work of a pair of Dodgers behind-the-line men, Eddie Miksis and Stan Rojek, that enabled the Brooks to defeat the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-1 yesterday and retain their six-game lead over the St. Louis Cardinals in the National league race.

Miksis and Rojek, filling in as a keystone combination for second baseman Ed Stanky and shortstop Pee Wee Reese, both sidelined by spike wounds in Saturday's game with Cincinnati, drove in the winning runs and played errorless ball afield. Miksis slammed a seventh inning homer and singled in four times at bat and Rojek drove in Dixie Walker with a single in the second inning.

In the cleanup spot for the Dodgers veteran Arky Vaughan, filled in for the slumping Johnny Jorgensen at third base. Vaughan didn't hit yesterday, but his three safeties helped defeat the Reds last week.

Relief Man Homers

Aaron Robinson, Johnny Lindell, Bobby Brown and Al Clark are the Yankee trouble shooters who have stepped in whenever a regular had to be rested for one reason or another. With Yogi Berra, the regular receiver, out with a throat infection, Robinson filled in yesterday and clouted a home run and two singles in five times at bat, scored twice and drove in five runs to lead the Yankees to a 16-6 victory over the Chicago White Sox. The win enabled the American league leaders to gain a split in their doubleheader at Chicago. The White Sox won the opener, 3-2. The second game was halted after seven innings because of darkness.

The Cardinals spotted the Braves four runs in the first inning, then came on to win, 9-5, in the first of an important three-game series in Boston. Led by Stan Musial, who poled his 16th home run, and pitcher Murry Dickson, who touched off the winning rally with a bases-loaded single, the Cards cracked out 15 hits to hand Johnny Sain his ninth defeat. Sain has won 17.

Giants, Cubs Split

The New York Giants blasted five home runs in splitting a doubleheader with the Chicago Cubs at the Polo Grounds to set a National league team record of 173 home runs. The previous mark was held by the Chicago Cubs, who hit 171 in 1930. The Giants have 35 games left in which to better the Yankees' major league record of 182, set in 1936.

The Giants took the opener, 4-0, behind home runs by Walker Cooper and Sid Gordon. Four batters by Johnny Mize, Ernie Lombardi and Buddy Kerr failed to help the Giants in the second game as the Cubs won, 6-3. Ed Waitkus helped Hank Wyse gain his fifth win with a grand slam homer.

Mize's round tripper was his 40th of the season, putting him one game ahead of Babe Ruth's pace of 1927 when the former home run king set his record of 60.

The Tigers swept a doubleheader from the Philadelphia Athletics in Detroit, 6-2 and 5-4. They trail the Red Sox by a half game.

The Washington Senators defeated the Browns, 7-4, in the second game of a doubleheader at St. Louis after the Browns won the opener, 7-1.

SMITTY TEAMS RUN WILD OVER WEEKEND

Come Out on Top in 3 of 4 Sunday Games.

Sunday was a red-letter-day for Smitty's softball teams.

The All-Stars got revenge from Fostoria K. of C., the Maids got their first victory over a Columbus team in the bottom half of a twin bill, and the All-Stars made their day complete with their first win over Williams-McNabb Mortuarians, an all-Negro Columbus crew.

Following All-Star activity, Shanty Town Bar challenged Smitty's to a game on neutral territory and Harold Smith has accepted the challenge. The game will be played at Prospect, the date to be announced soon. Away from Crystal Lake park Shanty Town has been almost unbeatable this season, while their record there isn't impressive.

Jim Kunkle pitched the All-Stars to a 2-1 win over Fostoria K. of C. in the afternoon at Fostoria. Smitty's nicked De Ceasre, six foot one inch, 245 pound pitcher, for five hits in getting the victory, which was three more than they got off him earlier this season.

Wilkes Meats of Columbus edged the Maids, 4-2, in the first tilt of a doubleheader and the Maids came back to win, 4-0 in the second game. Hart and Mochel led the Maids' hitting with two each.

The All-Stars got off to a shaky start against Williams-McNabb, but came through with a 5-4 victory. Hart's double with the bases loaded clinched things in the last of the final stanza.

Bruins Win Two, Lose One

Special to The Star

NEWARK, Aug. 25—Newark Browns and the Marion Cubs broke even in a four-game series here when they split a twin bill Sunday afternoon and evening at Arnold park.

The Cubs will play a single game at Lima tonight.

The Browns won the afternoon tilt, 8-4, but the Cubs rallied for four runs in the top half of the ninth inning to take the nightcap, 7-4. The Marion outfit trailed, 4-3, before this frame. Marion won Saturday night 9-8.

Shuford Hits Homer

Marion owes its victory in Sunday's night cap to shortstop Shuford who connected for a home run over the right field fence with the bases loaded in that big ninth inning.

After Smith had filed out to centerfield, Rasmussen got life when catcher Johnny Oldani tipped his bat. Manager Burbrink then was hit by a pitched ball and Maxhimer filled the sacks by getting a base on balls off of Willison. With the count two balls and one strike, Willison threw one down the center and Shuford caught hold of it and drove it over the right field fence sign a distance of 325 feet.

Newark Takes Lead

Newark took the lead when it scored twice in the last of the third inning, but Marion tied the game with two in the sixth when Maxhimer singled into right field to drive in Rasmussen who had walked and Manager Nelson Burbrink who had doubled. Manager Sam Jones' boys went in front when Eddie Fowler stole home in the last of the sixth.

Marion evened the count in the last of the eighth when Maxhimer scored from third base after Willison hit Flamini to force him in. Palmers two bagger in the last of the eighth for Newark brought in Johnny Batt with the tieing run.

Bob Brunner, ace Newark right-hand pitcher, allowed the slugging Cubs 11 hits in the afternoon and beat them, 8-3, as his teammates manufactured four double plays behind him, one in each of the first four innings.

The Browns collected only seven hits off Frank Smith but took advantage of 10 bases on balls and Ed Fowler's lusty hitting to lick him.

Two walks and Batt's safe bunt loaded the bases with none out in the first inning and Fowler cleaned them with a double.

Two walks and F. Smith's own error filled the sacks again in the third. This time Fowler flied deep to center, scoring one run. Howard Palmer followed with a two-run single. A base on balls, a single by Fowler an error by Rasmussen and Hopkins' one-base gave Newark its final runs in the seventh.

Rasmussen batted in Marion's first run in the third with a single to plate Hollingshead, who had reached base on Bernadett's error.

A walk to J. Smith, Rasmussen's third single, Main's error and Maxhimer's infield out gave the Cubs a pair of tallies in the eighth.

Win with Rally

Marion won Saturday night's marathon, 9-8, with a five-run rally in the ninth inning. Graney, third of four Marion pitchers, was the winning hurler.

Bernadett errored on Rasmussen's grounder to open the ninth. Then Burbrink walked. Maxhimer singled to load the bases. Shuford walked, forcing in a run. Nelson forced Maxhimer at third, Burbrink plating. Forbes walked. Bobzean, batting for Graney, singled over second, scoring Shuford and Nelson. Carroll Yerkes, third Newark hurler and second of the inning, then balked Forbes home with what proved to be the winning run.

Sandy Lambert Wins 20th As Bums Take Dual Bill

By The Associated Press

Slick Sandy Lambert, the league - leading Zanesville Dodgers star left-hander, found himself the Ohio State league's No. 1 pitcher on two strong counts today.

Taking his regular mound turn against cellar-dwelling Lima last night, Lambert hurled six-hit ball and was bolstered by an 11-run fifth inning rally in hanging up victory No. 20 by 15-6, stretching his season's strikeout total to 210.

The Dodger ace, first Ohio Stater to rack up 20 wins, has lost only seven games. His string of strikeouts also is the league's best mark, despite heavy opposition from Springfield's Tony West.

Sandy's triumph came over the regulation nine-inning route, after the Dodgers had won a twilight tilt, 6-2, at the seven-inning distance.

Muncie's Packers moved the Dayton Indians out of third place, 5-3 and 8-4, to drop the Tribe into fourth place one and one-half games behind them.

The Richmond Roses came back in the nightcap to gain a split with the Springfield Giants. The Giants, aided by a triple play in the sixth inning, won, 10-3, in the opener behind Jack Cingolani's good clutch pitching. But Bob Upton mastered the Giants, 8-4, in the abbreviated afterpiece.

Bums Sign Negro Pitcher Tagged Fastest in Game

By The Associated Press

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 25—Long, loose-jointed Dan Bankhead moved into baseball bigtime today eager for the chance to prove the tag tacked on him by many of his contemporaries in the Negro majors — that he is the "fastest pitcher in baseball, black or white."

The 24-year-old Negro athlete made an overnight flight to Brooklyn shortly after it was learned that Dodger President Branch Rickey, following a personal look-see, had bought his contract from the Memphis Red Sox.

Bankhead had a conference scheduled this afternoon with Rickey and the Dodger head hinted that afterwards he would disclose plans for the Negro hurler's immediate future.

Dr. B. B. Martin, owner of the Memphis Negro American league club, said Rickey told him that Bankhead may be in the Brooklyn lineup "within a week"—thus becoming the first Negro pitcher to crash the majors.

DREAM RACE CANCELED

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 25—The Assault-Armed showdown — which loomed as the race of the year to determine the horse of the year—today has faded from reality back into a dream. The nationally acclaimed $100,000 winner-take-all match race, scheduled for Saturday at Washington park, was cancelled when Assault pulled up lame after a mile and an eighth workout early yesterday.

GRID CLASSIC OPENS

AKRON, Aug. 25—The Catholic Youth organization's annual football clinic opens today with Emil (Red) Sitko, Notre Dame backfield star as visiting coach.

MARION AND ASHLEY DIVIDE DOUBLEHEADER

The Marion Independents and Ashley Independents divided a twin bill at McKinley park yesterday, Ashley winning the first game, 15-1, and Marion coming back to win, 5-3 in the second.

Pitching featured both games, Whetzel allowing Marion only two hits in the first as Ashley pounced on the offerings of two locals and Johnston allowing Ashley only two in the second game.

Two spectacular fielding plays featured the second match. Don Williams, Marion second baseman, dived for a ground ball, snagged it, somersaulted, and threw to first from a sitting position. Bob Garrison, Ashley shortstop pulled a similar stunt.

Pair Sought in Killing Of Geauga Countian

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Aug. 25 — The killing of Anthony V. (Tony) DiCillo at his own back door touched off a search today for a pair of men—one tall, the other short and chunky.

Those were the descriptions of the men, who, wearing handkerchiefs over their faces, pounded on DiCillo's door in the early morning hours yesterday at his home in nearby Chesterland, Geauga county authorities said.

When he answered, accompanied by his wife, they soon forced their way in—after asking a fake question—and one fired a shot into DiCillo'c chest, reported prosecuting Attorney Harold K. Bostwick.

Bostwick said he believed the men's motive was robbery but that they failed to get any money after thoroughly ransacking the house.

2 Men Slightly Hurt In Crash Near Galion

By The Associated Press

Slight injuries to two men were reported by the highway patrol today as the result of the car in which they were riding leaving the road and smashing into a guard rail about five miles south of Galion on route 30 S. The driver of the car, Frank Clengan, 20, of Cleveland, suffered slight body bruises and a passenger, Jake Russell, also of Cleveland, received cuts on his face. Clengan attempted to turn at the junction of route 61 when he lost control and the car rolled down a deep ravine, the highway patrol said. Both were brought to Marion City hospital by the patrol.

Sister Kenny Dedicates Polio Clinic in Illinois

By The Associated Press

CENTRALIA, Ill., Aug. 25—Miss Elizabeth Kenny, Australian nurse for her fight against infantile paralysis, yesterday dedicated the first of what her supporters hoped would be a series of worldwide clinics to combat the disease.

It was dedicated as the "Sister Elizabeth Kenny Clinic of the Central Midwest for Infantile Paralysis." Approximately 1,000 persons, including physicians from Illinois, Indiana and Missouri, witnessed the dedication ceremonies.

Train Fire in Germany Kills 27 and Injures 45

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, Aug. 25—A train fire fatal to 27 persons brought the arrest of a film operator today on charges of violating regulations concerning the transport of film. More than 45 passengers were injured as the flames swept an overcrowded coach.

The fire occurred Saturday on a suburban train in the Russian zone, north of Berlin.

German police said a locomotive spark apparently ignited a can of inflammable liquid carried by the film operator, Max Eichholz. They said the film he was carrying then exploded and burned.

Programs on the Air

Four special broadcasts have been programmed by the Mutual network in connection with the New York convention of the American Legion. The first is scheduled Thursday, Aug. 28, for the 3:30-3:45 p. m., period when MBS will air the address by Secretary of Defense James V. Forrestal before the Legionnaires assembled at New York City's Madison Square Garden. The following day, Friday, Aug. 29, Lt. General Carl "Tooey" Spaatz, Commanding General of the U. S. Army Air Forces, will be heard over Mutual from 3:30-3:45 p. m., when he addresses the Legionnaires in convention at the 71st St. Armory, New York City. Two broadcasts have been scheduled for MBS airing when the veterans hold their mammoth 16-hour parade up New York's Fifth Avenue on Saturday, Aug. 30. Mutual announcers will describe the event from four vantage points.

* * *

Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Boettiger, assistant publisher of the Arizona Times, will support the affirmative in a debate on the question, "Can Free Enterprise Here Compete With Socialism Abroad?" when the ABC broadcast of America's Town Meeting originates at Phoenix, Ariz., Thursday, Aug. 28 at 8:30 p. m. Howard Leggitt, vice president of the Valley National Bank, and vice chairman of the committee on economic development for the state of Arizona, will share the affirmative stand with Mrs. Boettiger. Irving Stone, former economics instructor at the University of California will argue the negative, joined by a fourth speaker to be announced.

SIAMESE TWINS BORN

By The Associated Press

ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo., Aug. 25—Attendants at Wyoming General hospital reported early today that the condition of rare Siamese twins, born to Mr. and Mrs. Harding Brown of Pinedale, Wyo., was "only fair." Dr. K. E. Krueger, the attending physician, had reported 12 hours after their birth at 8:10 a. m. yesterday that the pair, both girls, were in "fine" condition. He added however that medical records indicated their chances of survival are "very, very small."

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

"I THINK you have expressed Mary's subconscious thought," I told Katharine.

"More probably her conscious one," she said, and there was a trace of cynicism in her voice.

Then she thrust it aside.

"Don't misunderstand me," she said. "Mary longs for motherhood, and she will be one of the world's best mothers. If she comes back, as she will, she'll be one of the world's greatest actresses, and she will be able to have the watchful trained care of her baby of which less fortunate mothers dream. And she'll give the time to her child's training, and also the companionship, which many other actresses fritter away in cafe social life and hilarious house parties. Not that Mary won't savor those a bit, too, but she will have a proper perspective of them."

"But," she went on, "Mary's too thorough a trouper to fling her profession overboard. And though for a few hours, or minutes, Noel may imagine he'd like to have her do that little thing, Mary has sense enough to know that he has enough of his father's temperament in him to be disappointed secretly if she did give up her career for domesticity.

"However," she finished, "I'm talking academically. I wouldn't think of saying one word of this to Mary. And I know I don't need to caution you about repeating a single syllable of this conversation to her."

"Of course not," I said. "But do you realize that in all probability she is going to ask your advice about this?"

"That's what they label a foregone conclusion," she said with a grin. "But she isn't going to get anywhere near first base with me. Some way I want to smuggle an interview with Dr. Twitchell before he sees Mary tonight, and put him wise to a few things. And I shall tell Mary, if she tackles me, that only the good doctor can answer her questions adequately. But how can I get hold of Dr. Twitchell without Mary smelling two or three little mice?"

"That's easy," I told her. "Just go over to your own apartment now, get him on the wire, tell him you must see him before Mary does, arrange to have him call this apartment before he comes up, not giving his name, and tell him you or I will say 'That's perfectly all right.' Then on that signal he will come up to your apartment first, and you can see him there. Have him tell you now, if he can, the hour of his coming. Then we can arrange to have Mary busily engaged in studying her lines with me at that time."

"Dear Mrs. Fix-it!" she said affectionately, but I flushed at the gibe which Dicky frequently uses, although intending no more slur than Katharine did.

"There's only one drawback," she said. "I can't go now, because it's almost time for me to go back to Mary. Above all things, I don't want her to be irritated or feel frustrated today. Everything must run smoothly. She mustn't find me gone when she wants me."

A key in the lock, and Dicky's entrance interrupted her.

Katharine clapped her hands softly.

"Come over here!" she commanded, and as Dicky obeyed her with a bewildered look, she pointed to a chair opposite us, then looked at her wrist watch.

"I have seven minutes," she said, before I'm due to get back to Mary. I don't dare go over to my own apartment and telephone Dr. Twitchell as Madge suggests, for fear I'd be delayed."

"Why," exclaimed Mary's uncle, "is Mary worse?"

"No, no," Katharine said impatiently. "She's fine. But Madge has been interviewing Philip Veritzen, and I'm fairly drooling to hear you do justice to the occasion with your own particular brand of choice swear words."

"That's what I came down for," my husband said; "to get a round-by-round account."

"Madge won all of 'em," Katharine told him. "Now don't you dare open your mouth until she gets through, no matter how worked up you get. And Madge, you talk fast. I want you to leave me time to hear Dicky at his best."

"You mean at his worst," I said, wrinkling my nose at my husband.

"Kindly cut out the connubial persiflage," Katharine commanded. "Get busy on your yarn!"

I obeyed her, and so did Dicky. He did not utter a syllable until I had finished, and then he sprang to his feet.

"That's all?" he asked.

"Isn't it enough?" Katharine queried.

"And then some!" he retorted, and then, turning to me: "Did I hear you right? Was his first comment on your news of Mary's terror: 'That means I never can have a grandchild?'"

I nodded, and then, held my breath, for I do not think the next two minutes of picturesque expletive was ever surpassed. He used no ordinary oaths. But his description of Philip Veritzen's ancestry, their probable present habitat, and Phil's own destination had Katharine and me convulsed with laughter.

When he had finished, Katharine wiped her eyes and hurried into the bedroom. She returned almost at once, closing the door softly behind her.

"I can go over and telephone Dr. Twitchell after all," she said. "Mary's sound asleep."

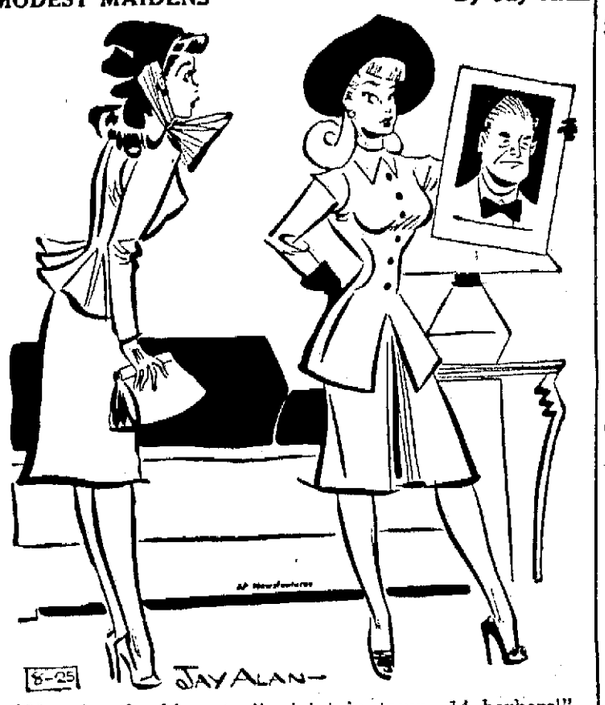
MODEST MAIDENS By Jay Alan



"He runs the biggest clip joint in town—14 barbers!"

THE TIMID SOUL By H. T. Webster

LISTEN—THEY'VE GIVEN ME A HANDICAP OF 25 AND I THINK IT'S TOO HIGH. ONCE IN A WHILE I GO CRAZY AND BREAK A HUNDRED AND I'D FEEL MIGHTY GUILTY IF I DID THAT TODAY. MAYBE IF WE CUT IT TO 15 IT WOULD BE FAIRER HEY, EDDIE! GET THIS! HERE'S A GUY THINKS HIS HANDICAP'S TOO BIG!

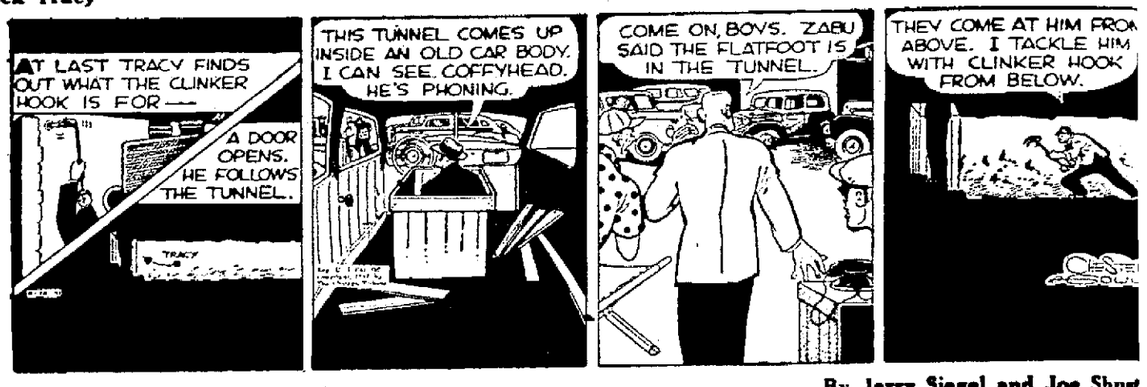
Dick Tracy By Chester Go



AT LAST TRACY FINDS OUT WHAT THE CLINKER HOOK IS FOR — A DOOR OPENS. HE FOLLOWS THE TUNNEL.
TRACY
THIS TUNNEL COMES UP INSIDE AN OLD CAR BODY. I CAN SEE COFFYHEAD. HE'S PHONING.
COME ON, BOYS. ZABU SAID THE FLATFOOT IS IN THE TUNNEL.
THEY COME AT HIM FROM ABOVE. I TACKLE HIM WITH CLINKER HOOK FROM BELOW.

Superman By Jerry Siegel and Joe Shust

WITH YOU ON ALMOST CONSTANT GUARD, AND THE MAZE PRACTICALLY IMPREGNABLE, HOW COULD THE YOUTH-SERUM HAVE BEEN STOLEN?
HMM... DO YOU THINK I STOLE IT?
I DIDN'T SAY YOU STOLE IT! I MERELY DEMANDED AN EXPLANATION.
LISTEN— COULDN'T IT HAVE BEEN STOLEN AND WATER SUBSTITUTED BEFORE I BROUGHT THIS BOTTLE TO THE VAULT?
BY WHOM? THAT GROUP OF IMPECCABLE SCIENTISTS AND FRIENDS WHO WERE AT THE DEMONSTRATION? NONSENSE!
ARE YOU FORGETTING HOW ANXIOUS THEY ALL WERE TO GET A DROP?
REMEMBER— WITH RESTORED YOUTH AS A TEMPTATION— ABSOLUTELY NO ONE ABOVE SUSPICION!

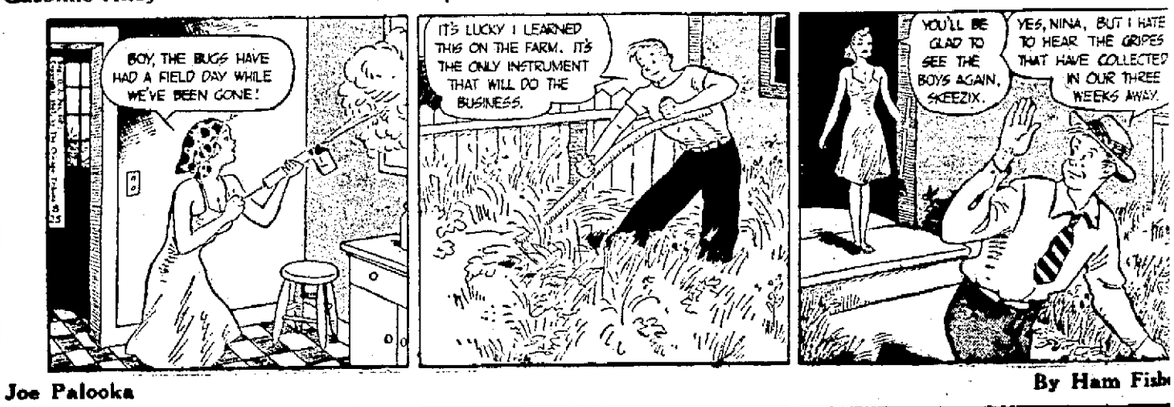
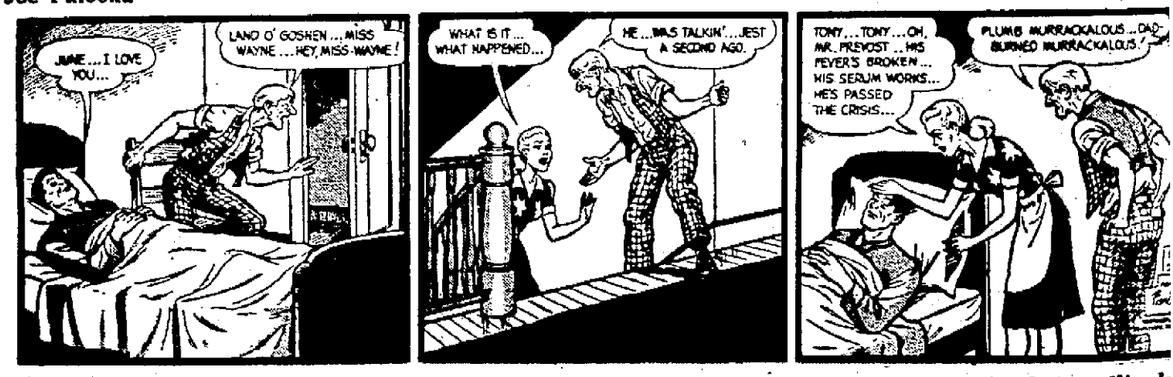
Gasoline Alley By Frank Ki



BOY, THE BUGS HAVE HAD A FIELD DAY WHILE WE'VE BEEN GONE!
IT'S LUCKY I LEARNED THIS ON THE FARM. IT'S THE ONLY INSTRUMENT THAT WILL DO THE BUSINESS.
YOU'LL BE GLAD TO SEE THE BOYS AGAIN, SKEEZIX.
YES, NINA, BUT I HATE TO HEAR THE GRIPES THAT HAVE COLLECTED IN OUR THREE WEEKS AWAY.

Joe Palooka By Ham Fish



JANE... I LOVE YOU...
LAND O' GOSHEN... MISS WAYNE... HEY, MISS WAYNE!
WHAT IS IT... WHAT HAPPENED...
HE... WAS TALKIN'... JEST A SECOND AGO.
TONY... TONY... OH, MR. PREVOST... HIS FEVER'S BROKEN... HIS SERUM WORKS... HE'S PASSED THE CRISIS...
PLUMB MURRACKALOUS... DAD-BURNED MURRACKALOUS!

Terry and the Pirates By George Wunde

BOB, YOU'RE OUT OF YOUR MIND! YOU CAN'T MAKE ME STAY HERE. TELL YOUR SERVANTS TO STAND CLEAR OF THAT DOOR.
REALLY, MY DEAR! YOU'RE BEING QUITE HYSTERICAL. WE WERE IN THIS TOGETHER, AND WE SHALL BOTH PAY THE PIPER.
TAKE HER TO HER ROOM — AND LOCK HER IN!
...AND AT GENDARMERIE HEADQUARTERS.
...WE FOUND THE FAT MAN'S JEEP ABANDONED ON A DOWNTOWN STREET A SHORT TIME AGO... HE'S PROBABLY STILL IN THE CITY. YOU WILL HAVE YOUR MEN COVER EVERY EXIT... SEND RAIDING PARTIES INTO EVERY THIEF'S HANGOUT... PUT THE HEAT ON ALL INFORMERS... TURN THIS TOWN UPSIDE DOWN, IF YOU HAVE TO...
BUT FIND ME THE FAT MAN!

The Gumps By Gus Edso

I'LL BE A MIRACLE IF I DON'T CATCH PNEUMONIA IN THIS HOUSE... OR DIE OF DAMP-ROT!
PATIENCE, TILDA... MR. GUMP IS IN THE ATTIC FIXING THE ROOF LEAKS...
HE'D BETTER BE QUICK, OR YOU'LL HAVE TO BUY ME A DIVING HELMET.. I DON'T PROPOSE TO DROWN IN MY OWN KITCHEN...
OH, MIN!
I CAN'T FIND THOSE DRATTED LEAKS, NOW THAT THE RAIN HAS STOPPED!
